Bootleg High Finance.
Woman Is a Person.
They Don't Want Freedom.
The Fate of Old Men.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.

(Copyright 1929, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

THE high financing of crime, on a bootleg basis, puzzles the authorities. They wonder how Mr. "Scarface Al" Capone, safe in a Philadelphia prison, could send checks for large sums to associates, outside, cancel the checks, carry on a regular financial business.

THE authorities wonder how bootleggers could establish a code system with a respectable bank and they ask the bank to explain the code by which bootleg money was distributed.

A BEAR is said to live all winter on his own fat. But he cannot continue doing so all summer. The new criminal class which constitutes a complete training school and university of crime, is living just now on its own membership. Gunman shoots gunman, racketeer uses the "chopper," or machine gun, on his fellow racketeers. But that will not last always.

WHEN the new school of crime turns its attention to respectability when it takes, perhaps, a few interfering respectables for "one day rides," something will have to be done.

Even now, authorities suggest that bootleggers may have dealt with banks on a basis of intimidation. The kidnapping of a New Jersey banker remains unexplained.

THE CANADIAN supreme court decided that "a woman is not a person, therefore not qualified to sit in the Canadian senate."

The British privy council, overruling Canada's decision, decides that a woman is a person. Years have passed since English law sought to protect women by ruling that a husband might beat his wife where he thought it necessary, but only with a stick or "not thicker than his thumb."

PUTTING through a new tariff is a complicated process. You read that the "sugar group" interested in the important American industry of beet sugar production has spent $500,000 "to boost the tariff." That expenditure is admitted by the secretary of the Beet Sugar association.

JUST how the $500,000 was spent never will be known in detail. But it is revealed that the association spent part of its money on "agitation to free the Philippines."

IF WE free those poor Filipinos they won't be able to send sugar to the United States without paying a high duty.

So our sugar men say: "How can you bear to hold those poor Filipinos in bondage?"

On the other hand, the intelligent Filipinos say: "We don't WANT to be free. We want to belong to our dear Uncle Sam if freedom is going to cost us money."

MR. BERMAN, Lieutenant Governor of New York, advocating a state pension for the aged, observes that a pension for the aged is no more "revolutionary or socialistic" than caring for dependent children.

MAN'S attitude toward old age has been gradually changing for 500,000 years. Some savages ate the old combining economy with profit. And the old were persuaded that it was right, for it always had been done.

Some tribes turned useless old people adrift, or left them behind when moving camp.

DWELLERS in the far north put the aged, with a small supply of food, inside a hut of solid ice, then block up the entrance with a close-fitting block of wet ice, leaving starvation and suffocation to take their course.

Modern "civilization" improves on that by letting the old woman or man shift for herself or himself, like an old horse, turned out on the roadside.

LONDON'S automobile show displays some interesting novelties, and emphasizes the American automobile industry's dominating position in world markets.

The cheapest British six-cylinder car costs $1,200. Near it stands the American six-cylinder Chevrolet, a far better car, selling for $950. That's hard competition, and the cry "buy British" does not wipe out the price and quality difference.

CLEMENCE VOROSHILOV, Russian war commissioner, says war must surely come between capitalism and the proletariat.

Therefore, Russia is engaged in a five-year program which Voroslov thinks, will make capitalism behave or conquer it, if necessary.

169 PERSONS "JOY-RIDE" ON FLYING BOAT

Record Number go Aloft in German Dornier-X.

FLY FOR HOUR

"Flight Complete Success," Says Craft Owner.

FRIEDRICHSHAVEN, Oct. 21.—(INS)—Carrying the greatest number of persons ever taken aloft in a heavier-than-air machine, the giant 12-motored German flying boat Dornier-X took 150 passengers and a crew of 19 on a sensational "joy-ride" here today.

Built for Ocean Service.

The huge ship which was constructed for trans-Atlantic air service between Germany and South America, remained in the air for an hour, circling over the great airport where the giant dirigibles "Los Angeles" and "Graf Zeppelin" were constructed.

In spite of its tremendous weight, the Dornier-X made a perfect take-off and a perfect landing. "The flight was a complete success," said Morris Dornier, a member of the firm which manufactures the giant aircraft. "Even with the weight she carried, the Dornier should be able to fly 600 to 800 miles with ease."

All Conveniences for Passengers.

No air passengers have ever had more conveniences than the 150 invited guests who went aloft this morning. The ship contains a salon 21 feet long and 10 feet wide, an American bar, smoking room and cabins equipped with steel furniture capable of housing 73 passengers with comfort.

A portion of the nineteen members of the crew was assigned to cater to the passengers' wants while four manned the intricate controls.

BAPTIST CHURCH MEET POSTPONED

D. L. Moody, song leader and soloist, and Claude Kelly, pianist and soloist, both of Columbus, who were to have opened a series of revival services in the First Baptist church, yesterday, have been detained in Cleveland and opening of the local campaign has been postponed until next Sunday.

The services here will continue for three weeks.

MOTORIST HELD FOR GRAND JURY

LISBON, O., Oct. 21.—William Thomas, Lisbon, was fined $50 and costs upon a charge of disorderly conduct and was held for the grand jury under $200 bond upon a reckless driving charge when he was arraigned before Mayor R. B. Clark, Saturday night. He was arrested following an automobile crash at Chestnut and North Market streets Friday night.

PHILIP MALONE DIES SUDDENLY

Philip Malone, 45, died suddenly of heart disease yesterday in his home, Peake street extension. He leaves his widow, three brothers, John S. Malone, Sebring; Oscar Malone, Fremont; Theodore Malone, East Liverpool; his father, Joseph Malone, and one sister, Mrs. Sarah E. Johnson, this city.

The body was removed to the Sturgis funeral home, West Fifth street, where services will be held at 10 a. m. tomorrow, in charge of Field Major Joseph Hughes of the Salvation army. Burial will be made in Spring Grove cemetery.

Laughlin China Company's No. 8 Plant "Last Word" In Construction

EDWIN WELLS CHIEF AT NEW LAUGHLIN SHOP

State Senator Named Superintendent of No. 8 Plant.

WILL MAKE IVORY Newell Unit Erected At Cost of $1, 500,000.

Edwin Wells, Jr., member of the West Virginia state senate and second son of W. E. Wells, secretary-treasurer and general manager, was today named superintendent of the new No. 8 plant of the Homer Laughlin China company, at Newell, simultaneously with the beginning of operations.

Wells has been in charge of the No. 5 plant at Newell for several years. The new unit, which is the largest of the Laughlin company's eight plants in East Liverpool and Newell, will manufacture ivory ware, in which the Laughlins are among the pioneers. Clays for the plant will be produced in the Nos. 6 and 7 slip houses, day and night turns being employed.

The new unit, which represents an investment of $1,500,000 will not be operated to capacity for the time being. Sixteen of the plant's 31 jiggers will be in operation before the end of the week. "Last Word" in Construction. The new pottery, the "last word" in factory construction, will employ 900 persons. Its output will equal the combined production of the Nos. 6 and 7 plants.

The plant is equipped with three Harrop tunnel kilns, one bisque and two glost, and two Holcroft decorating kilns. The bisque kiln, 375 feet in length, is an improvement over those at the other Laughlin plants in that it is equipped with more fire boxes. The bisque and glost kilns were erected by the Harrop Ceramic Service company, Columbus, while the decorating kilns were installed by (Continued on page 8, column 7)

New No. 8 plant of the Homer Laughlin China company at Newell, which began operations today, and which will employ approximately 900 persons when operating in full, is the "last word" in factory construction. It is equipped with the latest type of machinery and labor-saving devices. View in the extreme left corner shows the 37-foot Harrop bisque kiln. Upper center is a scene in the jiggering section of the clay shop, while the upper right shows one of the two Holcroft decorating kilns which have been installed. CINCINNATI AWAITS HOOVER

President Will Join In Ohio River Celebration.

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 21.—(INS)—Like a small town, instead of a staid middle-western city, Cincinnati today teemed with a deeply rooted excitement in anticipation of the night and day celebration ahead of it which will bring President Herbert Hoover and other dignitaries to its midst.

The chief executive is expected to arrive at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. Meanwhile, the celebration will have started this afternoon when the first of the fleet of steamers which are making the dedication trip of the canalization of the Ohio river, arrives here.

The river packet "Cincinnati" is expected to dock here about 4 p. m. today and as soon as the first anchor is tossed ashore, the opening pyrotechnic display will be staged.

President Hoover will board the packet "Greenbrier" tomorrow afternoon and he is expected to be a guest of the steamer for its entire trip from Cincinnati to Cairo.

Senate Pay Its Tribute to Edison

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—(INS)—The senate today laid aside its tariff bill long enough to pay tribute to Thomas A. Edison, wizard of electricity. A resolution of Senator Vandenberg (R) of Mich., praising Edison's invention of the incandescent electric lamp 50 years ago, was adopted.

Sensors Vandenberg, Edge (R) and Kean (R) of New Jersey, Robinson (D) of Arkansas, and Fess (R) of Ohio, all made speeches of tribute.

MRS. MCCORMICK, AGED 82, DIES

Mrs. Sarah McCormick, widow of N. I. McCormick, lifelong resident of Beaver county, Pa., died yesterday in her home near Fairview, Pa. The body has been taken to the Horger home, 1062 St. George street, East End.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Four Mile United Presbyterian church, Fairview, in charge of the Rev. L. J. Davidson, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church.

CLEMENCEAU GRAVELY ILL

French "Tiger" Suffers Severe Heart Attack.

PARIS, France, Oct. 21.—(INS)—Georges Clemenceau, the grand old man of France, today was fighting off the effects of a severe heart attack.

The heart attack, which occurred late last night, was of such a serious character that Dr. Laubry, a heart specialist, found it necessary to administer oxygen to the aged statesman five times during the night.

"The Tiger," as he is affectionately known by his countrymen, summoned his valet at 10 o'clock last night and complained of a choking feeling.

News of "The Tiger's" illness was received gravely throughout France, owing to his advanced age. He celebrated his eighty-eighth birthday on Sept. 28, last.

PASTORS ASKED TO BOOST CITY HOSPITAL LEVY

J. D. Thompson Speaks At Meeting of Ministers.

NEED IS CITED Service Here Most Moderate in Price, He Says.

Plea for support of the three-fourths mill hospital tax levy at the November 5 election to furnish East Liverpool with "a hospital large enough to meet its actual needs," was made by J. Donald Thompson, a trustee, at the meeting of the Ministerial association in the Y. M. C. A. today.

Thompson discussed the crowded condition of the hospital and the need for a fire-proof addition which will be erected if the levy is approved. He also pointed to the need for modern equipment and other improvements.

Cost of Hospital Service. "The average hotel furnishes a room and three meals a day at rates ranging from $4 to $15 a day," Thompson said. "All other service costs extra. In a hospital it is necessary to employ approximately one person for each patient. When you consider what is required in a hospital you will readily understand why this is true."

"The item of laundry alone costs heavily because of the frequent changes of linen, dressing, etc. Only the best of food is used and it must be prepared carefully and especially for the sick. "A nurse must be kept subject to call at any moment of the night or day. If the number of patients drops down for a few days, we cannot discharge a part of our help, for the next day the hospital may be filled again. All ordinary medicines and dressings are furnished without extra charge. The sanitary conditions must be carefully maintained."

NATION'S HEAD HONORS EDISON AT DETROIT

Joins Henry Ford in Incandescent Light Fete.

MET BY HOST

Rides Replica of Old Train to Smith's Creek.

BY GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

DEARBORN, Mich., Oct. 21.—(INS)—President Hoover came to Detroit today for a visit with Henry Ford and to join with the automobile magnate and other national figures in honoring Thomas A. Edison on the fiftieth anniversary of his perfection of the incandescent light bulb.

Cold Drizzle as Train Arrives. A cold October drizzle was falling when the presidential special drew into the station, some miles from Detroit proper. The president and Mrs. Hoover were met by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ford and Mr. Edison at the station. The Fords and the city of Detroit share the duties of being host to the distinguished gathering of notables here to honor the aged inventor.

The president and his party stepped from the luxury of a crack B. and O. special train, equipped with every modern adjunct of comfort, straight on to a conveyance of earlier days—a replica of an old train on the Grand Trunk system, with its antiquated string of cars drawn by a "steam horse" belching smoke from its funny-looking smoke stack.

Aboard this old museum piece, the Hoovers and their party proceeded to Smith's Creek station, the entrance to the early American village which Ford has spent much time and money erecting here to remind this motor age that it has traveled far since colonial days. Visit Early American Village. The early American village is a hobby of Ford's, and he has scoured the nation to make it historically accurate.

At the village, the president and Mrs. Hoover joined up with the notable company which Ford has gathered here to participate in the Edison ceremonies. These ceremonies will conclude tonight with Edison reenacting for the benefit of his friends the laboratory scenes incident to the perfection of the electric bulb. Mr. Hoover will speak the nation's pride and appreciation of the aged inventor. His address being broadcast on a national hook-up about 7:30 p. m.

After the visit to Ford's village, the President and Mrs. Hoover went to the Ford home, about a mile away, for a brief stop before proceeding on to Detroit proper, where Governor Fred W. Green and Mayor John C. Lodge formally welcomed the chief executive to the automobile capital of the world.

5,000 AUTOS ON 'MAPLE ROAD'

More than 5,000 automobiles are estimated to have traveled over the new East Liverpool-East Palestine highway yesterday, the traffic being the heaviest since the road was opened a month ago. Congestion occurred several times during the day because automobiles parked on both sides of the highway near the top of the hill north of Fredericktown. One-way traffic was in effect over the Fredericktown and Negley bridges throughout the day.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Thrilling Story of Romance of Modern Girl

By Hazel Livingston

What Has Gone Before.

Nancy Hollenbeck, young and beautiful, wants to keep her newest beau, Mat Tully, all to herself. Returning from a ride she leaves him at her door to avoid her mother's questionings and her sister's stares. Later Mrs. Hollenbeck warns Nancy against her own mistake of marrying a poor man. Nancy after a sleepless night decides to follow her mother's advice. She breaks a date with Mat. Louise and Nancy leave for the annual house party of the rich Craigs. Nancy meets Jack Beamer, handsome English sportsman, married to wealth. Mrs. Craig comments, Louise, Nancy's sister, and Mat discover Beamer ardently embracing Nancy. Nancy, out with Jack Beamer until three o'clock, tearfully defends her actions to Louise. Next morning Mrs. Craig tells the girls their mother has wired for them to return.

Now Go On With the Story.

CHAPTER V.

They sat around the breakfast table with its fringed pink cloth, and cheerful yellow dishes, half a dozen young people who had suddenly lost interest in the house party. Say what you like about Nancy Hollenbeck—and most of them had been saying it without conspicuous charity, she did keep things moving. Nobody could think of so many absurd, delightful things to do. Nobody laughed so much, or had such a good time. While she was there, it was a party.

"Don't go!" May Belle begged, suddenly remembering how dull it had been before Nancy got there, and forgetting how she had threatened to monopolize Gil Neal before Jack Beamer mercifully distracted her attention. "Mother, tell the girls they can't go. Wire Mrs.

Hollenbeck, there's a dear. You can fix it. It can't be anything important."

"Yes, please do, Mrs. Craig!" "Go, we can't spare Nancy!" Nancy . . . Nobody protested against Lou's going. She was, as usual, overlooked, forgotten in her corner. Her slim hands were tightly clasped in her lap. She flushed and bit her lip to stop its trembling. Thank heaven they were going!

Yes, they were going. No amount of coaxing impressed Mrs. Craig. Her friend Kitty Hollenbeck had wired for her girls, and she was going to see they didn't miss the train. If they could come back later that would be splendid, but for the present there was nothing to do but finish breakfast and get off on time.

Anna, the maid, had everything packed when they rose from the table. Sam, the surly old Chinese man, was piling bags into the back of the car, grumbling at their weight. Oscar, the family chauffeur, was at the wheel, waiting. "I hate to hurry you, but the only eleven minutes left, and Oscar can't speed until he strikes the highway," Mrs. Craig wheezed, hustling them out to the waiting car, letting them take hats and wraps from Anna's hands, with never a suggestion that they might like to go upstairs and adjust them at the mirror.

Lou marched ahead, Nancy lagged behind, full of last minute witticisms for the boys, and breathless, loving hugs and bird-kisses for the girls.

"Eleven minutes. . . I do hope you can make it. Give my love to your dear mother. . . May Belle you MUSTN'T detain the girls!"

Everyone crowded around, the boys on the runningboard, the girls in a tight little group on the drive. "It's just horrid of you to go!" "You WILL be back for the big dance!" "Don't forget to let us know the minute you start back!"

Nancy was answering every one, laughing that rippling little laugh of hers, keeping her glance from Beamer, the only one except Louise who hadn't had anything to say.

"Nancy!" He couldn't keep back any longer. He pushed forward, shoving Gil Neal and Cary Fleming out of the way as if they were children. "If you must go, girls, let me drive you down to the city in my car. Much more comfortable than the train. What do you say?"

"Oh no, they'll be expecting us on the train, Jack. But thanks a lot for offering!" She couldn't avoid his gaze any longer. She lifted her head, a little shyly, a faint, secret smile curving her lips ever so slightly. . . Do you remember? Have you forgotten. . . last night. His fingers closed over hers. He said thickly in a kind of whisper that carried beyond Nancy to Mrs. Craig on the steps, to the little giggling group on the driveway. "You know I'll follow you anyway."

Then with a wave of his big, well shaped hand, and a mumbled "Take care of yourself!" he was gone, pushing unceremoniously past the others, disappearing, whistling, around the corner of the house. The car started, the Hollenbeck girls and their heaped up luggage were on their way, in a cloud of fine, yellowish dust.

Louise, sick with apprehension, turned on the still dreamy Nancy. "Do you want everybody to know?" The way you two looked at each other. I—I can't explain it. It knocked me. And you should have seen Mrs. Craig's face. Oh, how could you?"

"How could I what?" "Look at him that way. . . it was like last night all over again."

"But I didn't do anything!" "No, nothing at all!"

A long, painful pause, while Lou stared straight ahead at the back of Oscar's head, and Nancy twisted her glove nervously in her lap. Then, "I suppose I have to thank you for mama's wire."

"I don't understand you," Louise returned coldly.

"All right, I'll make it plainer. Did you wire mama to send for us?"

"Of course not. What do you take me for?" "You didn't?" Nancy's eyes darkened with fright. Two red spots flamed in her cheeks. "Oh Lou! Do you think. . . Mrs. Craig. . . do you think she wired mama?"

She was so mad because Jack liked her! She'd do anything, that woman! Oh Lou—if she did!"

"No, no—I'm sure she didn't. Nancy, for heaven's sake, pull yourself together. Oscar will notice!"

"A lot I care about Oscar!" Nancy sobbed. "It's Mrs. Craig I'm crying about!" And cry she did, in fits and starts, with pathetic little dabs at her brimming eyes, all the long way home, so that in the end, instead of scolding, Louise had to comfort her and reassure her instead.

"I don't know what will become of me," she said finally. "I'm too sensitive. I shouldn't care what any one thinks so long as I'm getting what I want, but I can't help it. If Jack Beamer does get a divorce I'll just suffer tortures. And if we can't be married in church it won't seem right."

"You're not really planning to. . . to. . . Louise couldn't go on. Her lips wouldn't form the words. Then all her worst fears were confirmed. Nancy was deliberately encouraging Beamer. "Nancy, you wouldn't marry a man you didn't love!"

Nancy fixed large, troubled eyes on her sister. "No, that would be a sin. But it wouldn't be so hard to fall in love with Jack Beamer, would it? He's terribly good looking, you have to admit that. Distinguished—"

"Disappointed!" "He is not. Don't be a prude. He is fascinating. I don't care what you say. He's always fascinated me—"

"Last week Mat Tully was the only fascinating man you ever met!" "Mat Tully! Will you stop harping on him? Suppose I did have a crush on him? Can't I get over it if I want to? Why do you always try to make everything hard for me? If you'd ever been in love yourself you'd know how hard it is for a girl. . . oh what's the use in trying to talk to you!" she broke off angrily.

Lou stared past her, out the win-

FLIER'S BRIDE

Mrs. Evelyn Spaulding Gibson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harris Spaulding, of Haverhill, Mass., who was recently married to Rob Roy Converse, of Rochester, N. Y., former war ace and reserve officer.

Her unseeing gaze was riveted on the swiftly changing landscapes. Marsh land, overgrown with rusty weeds. Tules, heavy brown heads swaying. Lush meadows with cattle knee deep in grass. What she was really seeing was Mat. . . Mat who had put his arm around her for a minute. . . a little minute. . .

"It isn't as if I were marrying someone just for money like papa's friend, Mr. Lachman. He's rich, goodness knows. And a bachelor. I guess lots of girls would jump at him. But do you think I'd take any man with dandruff on his collar, and a bald spot. Just to get his money? Ugh! It makes me sick, just to think of it. So that's why it's so wonderful about Jack. He has money, and social position, and he isn't like the boys we know, looking for some woman to help him get ahead. He can get ahead by himself. And Anita Beamer doesn't care anything about him, he told me that himself. She'd have gotten a divorce a long time ago if she had the pen. She's just too lazy. So I haven't anything to reproach myself with that way." Nancy's sweet voice rattled on. Louise heard it, as it from a great distance. She ought to interrupt, to reason with her, but she could not rouse herself to do it. For once more absorbed in her own troubles in her life Lou Hollenbeck was than anyone else's—even Nancy's.

"I was so afraid you wouldn't get the wire!" Mama met them at the door, turned her cool, wrinkled cheek to be kissed.

"Mummy dear! Oh, I'm so glad you aren't sick, and everything's all right!" Nancy flung herself upon her, laughing and crying all at once in the relief of seeing that mama didn't know, that Mrs. Craig hadn't started anything, that she was still safe.

"Mama's girl!" Mrs. Hollenbeck's faded blue eyes blurred. She slipped a skinny arm around Nancy's slender waist, smiled triumphantly to herself. Other mothers might have cause for worry in these hectic, modern times. Not she, not she!

"But why did you send for us, Mummy? What was the big idea?" Nancy, cool and self possessed again, was flinging off her things, noting with the clearer vision one always has after an absence, that the thin place in the hall carpet was almost worn through, and that something would have to be done about the wallpaper, it was a disgrace.

"Oh!" "Mama came back to earth with a start. 'It's your Aunt Ellie. She—'"

"She's dead! She died and left us fifty thousand, Halletuah!" Nancy shouted, overcome with the very idea.

Even Lou smiled sympathetically. Stinky Aunt Ellie. . . But mama's thin little face puckered into a mask of horror. She lifted a shaking finger. "Shh—She'll hear!"

You have a Doctor's Word for this Laxative

IN 1875, an earnest young man began to practice medicine. As a family doctor, he treated many cases of constipation. He soon saw the harm in common purges and began to seek something better. Out of his experience was born a famous prescription now in wide use.

This prescription was written thousands of times. It proved an ideal laxative for old and young. Children like its pleasant taste. Older people like it because it doesn't gripe or cause discomfort. It is a mixture of fresh herbs and other pure ingredients; thoroughly effective for the most robust of men. Stimulates the normal muscular action of the bowels. So its use will not become a habit. As people saw how marvelcously the most sluggish bowels are started and bad breath, headaches, biliousness, feverishness, or no energy, poor appetite, etc., are relieved by Dr. Caldwell's prescription, it became necessary to put it up ready for use.

Today, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, as it is called, is the world's most popular laxative. All drug stores have the generous bottles. The product never varies from Dr. Caldwell's original formula. So you can take it with confidence or give it to the youngest child.

Sues County for

LISBON, O., Oct. 21.—A special jury has been drawn to serve in probate court when the $10,000 property damage case of Paulixen Nasse against the county is called next week by Judge Lodge Riddle. The county commissioners made an offer of $1,000 to settle the issue, but the proposition was rejected.

The Nasse property occupied part of the Lincoln highway, and when the highway was improved part of the property was wrecked. Jurors drawn are: F. A. Rinehart, Leetonia; George G. Montz, Carl W. Hellyer, Gladys Debolt, George Guy, Frank Faulk, Mark Brownlow and Marie E. Hodgeson, all of East Liverpool; C. C. Shell, Negley; O'Mar Rinehart, Harold Bab and John S. Douth, Salem; H. F. Banfield, Delmar; O'Hara, Wellsville; Amanda Cook, New Waterford; Grace Myers, Columbiana.

Judgment for $315 Asked.
LISBON, O., Oct. 21.—The Home Credit company, with offices at Cleveland, has filed an action in common pleas court against Edward H. Baxter, seeking judgment to settle the issue, but the proposition was rejected.

HEARING CALLED

Salineville-Kensington
Link on State System List.

LISBON, O., Oct. 21.—The Urban Construction company of Massillon has completed 50 per cent of the surfacing of the two-mile stretch of the East Liverpool Youngstown road in Liverpool and St. Clair townships, and it is expected the last concrete will be poured about Nov. 1.

The state highway department will hold a public hearing in common pleas court No. 2 on Oct. 31 on establishment of the Salineville - Kensington - Summitville road as a state highway. This road is now part of the county system.

Authority has been granted the state highway department to add 400 miles of state highway, and applications are on file for the addition of 2,000 miles to the system.

Summitville Job Progresses.
Bon Francis of East Palestine, who was awarded the grading and drainage structure work on the Summitville - Kensington project, will complete this work about Nov. 9. The road will be given a concrete surface next year from Summitville to Kensington, where it will tap the Lincoln highway and the Carrollton-Salem road.

John Hill, of Ada, has completed both abutments and two piers of the new concrete bridge being erected over Beaver creek at Fredericktown on the East Liverpool-East Palestine road. The last pier and one of the superstructures will be finished by the end of the month, Surveyor Lloyd Kirk said.

With the placement of a guard rail, the concrete bridge over the creek at Negley will be finished. H. C. Armstrong, of Lisbon, has this contract.

Motorists Travel New Road.
Fair progress is being made on the grading of the Westville-North Georgetown and the Valley-Salem roads. The concrete drainage structures have been finished on the Westville - North Georgetown project.

More than 3,000 automobiles were driven over the new section of the East Liverpool-East Palestine and the Negley-Rogers road on Sunday.

MISSION RALLY IN YOUNGSTOWN

LISBON, O., Oct. 21.—Representatives of Christian churches in Columbiana county will attend a one-day eastern Ohio missionary convention to be held in the Central Christian church at Youngstown, Tuesday. Sessions will be held in the morning, afternoon and evening. Dinner will be served in the Central Christian church at 6:30 o'clock.

Kronapple-Danison Wedding.
LISBON, O., Oct. 21.—F. Mervyn Danison and Miss Irene Kronapple, both of Columbiana, and the latter a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kronapple, were married by Justice of the Peace M. K. Zimmerman, Jefferson county, and Miss Nancy E. Whiteleather, a school teacher, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Whiteleather of Mountrie, have been granted a marriage license.

The Goddard Bakery,
Chester, W. Va.
Gentlemen:

While in your charming city, I have sometimes wondered if you, yourself, have an adequate conception of the rare service you are rendering the people of your community, by putting on the market so fine a grade of bread as you are doing. To my mind, it is a marvelous thing to have it in your power, to so definitely influence the welfare of the bodies, minds and souls of so many people—for undoubtedly, Kleen-Maid Ready-Sliced bread plays a large part towards this end.

The women, in many cases, already had personal praise to offer me regarding the satisfaction they have had in using your product, and I am sure that many women, who had not previously seriously considered your bread, have their interest aroused very much by the personal mention which I gave regarding it each day during my demonstrations. I emphasized very strongly the convenience of the new ready sliced loaf which you have so recently introduced into the community.

If you feel that it has paid you to have co-operated with me in our school it would mean so much to me, to have you write me a letter telling me so.

It always encourages me to get such a letter.

With sincere congratulations and best wishes for an ever increasing business,

Very faithfully,

MRS. FRANCES NORTHCROSS.

Free Collection of Garbage

East Liverpool electors will decide on Tuesday, Nov. 5, whether they wish to establish a system of free collection of garbage, for a proposed half-mill tax levy will be submitted on a separate ballot at the municipal and township election.

Call for a vote by the city followed an investigation of the plan which is now in effect in Steubenville, where it has more than met the expectations of its proponents. Canton is another city where the system has proved satisfactory.

If the proposed levy is sanctioned, health board officials point out, many problems now confronting them on the garbage collection will be solved. For the free system will mean weekly instead of sporadic collections in East End, West End and Northside as well as in the central part of the city.

And, too, it will permit the acquisition of new equipment. This will mean the purchase of new receptacles and elimination of the nauseating odors that now accompany the garbage wagon on its rounds. Covered cans will be removed and a steam-cleaned receptacle left by the collector when he calls for the filled can at each home.

It is also pointed out that the plan will serve to prevent dumping of garbage in alleys and on hill-sides, since there will be no reason for this practice when no charge is made for its removal. At the same time persons who, because of the cost, permit garbage to accumulate for two or three weeks, will have no worries on this score, for the can will be removed once a week without any direct outlay on the part of the home occupant.

By far and large, the free system of garbage collection appeals. A half-mill levy, or 50 cents a year on each $1,000 valuation, is a low rate for the service.

Doom of Speaking Stage

Jane Cowl told the members of the Women's Graduate club of Columbia university that the speaking stage is doomed, that the theater is suffering from a dangerous fever and that within ten years nothing will remain of its one-time glory save a few organizations like the New York Theater guild.

So far as the future of the stage is concerned, Miss Cowl could hardly have been classed as a blown-in-the-bottle optimist for some years past, and for the last year or two her pessimism on the subject has been pronounced.

Miss Cowl may be right in her prediction that the American theater is on its last legs and staggering for a final fall, but many can not entirely agree with her in her diagnosis of the theater's case and the causes leading up to its precarious condition. She holds the talkies, the radio and bad manners on the stage and in the auditorium alike responsible.

No doubt the talkies and radio have had their effect, and filth has done its part. The bad manners of patrons who enter the theater late and disturb players and audience alike, and other offenses by the public against good manners, as cited by Miss Cowl, have done their share, but other factors enter into the situation.

Many things have contributed to the fall of the speaking stage, but, in the last analysis, it will be found that theater employees and theater management have been chiefly responsible, aided and abetted in the larger cities by the ticket scalpers.

Elihu Root Speaks

It is three decades since President McKinley called Elihu Root from a great law practice to take over the war department and straighten out the tangles of the Spanish-American war. Mr. Root's influence was immeasurable in those days when America was starting on a policy of imperialism.

As successor to John Hay, Mr. Root entered the state department under the Roosevelt administration. Later, he was an adviser to President Taft and was called into conference frequently by President Wilson during the World War. When President Coolidge reopened negotiations over entrance into the World Court, Mr. Root, far from in years, was sent to Geneva to smooth the differences that the American reservations would create.

This distinguished and venerable diplomat, now an octogenarian, has a vast background of knowledge on the subject of war and international relations. Therefore, a statement which he made in New York, October 11, on the occasion of a dinner in honor of Premier MacDonald is significant.

In connection with his belief that many of the old obstacles to peaceful settlements of differences between nations have been removed, Mr. Root said: "Cannon fodder is learning how to control diplomacy."

That is something for the people to think about—all classes of them. The "superior" people are forever in a fret lest the plain people, the "cannon fodder," will substitute emotionalism for intelligence. They think that matters of state should be in the hands of the "hard-headed" people, who will be deceived by nothing and will demand extra measure in every instance. It would never occur to the advocates of this hard-boiled, hit-first-for-protection policy, but it has occurred to Elihu Root, sage with the wisdom of years and several wars, that the dumbest peasant on the continent, or the most ignorant American workman, governed wholly by emotion, could not have made a worse mess of affairs than the "hard-heads" did in the years preceding 1914.

HASKIN LETTER DAILY

By Frederic J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 21.—Through many dismal years the manufacturers of machines operated by coins have plodded, always in hope that a day would come when they would be sitting on top of the world. There is a lightening in the eastern sky of this industry which gives promise that soon they may say through the official organ of their trade association (if they have such) "Come the Dawn!"

They have had their moments in the past but they have only been moments. The gay promise of hopeful flickerings has waned under the oppression of a darkening cloud made up partly of lack of ingenuity in machines and partly of the stern hand of the law. These earlier flickerings, though, have all proved to be false dawns.

It was not until 1919 that Uncle Sam thought it worth while to take a census of makers of slot machines. He found out a handful with a total output of $1,646,231. But by 1927 it was discovered that machine makers had changed so much that 41 manufacturers were in the business with an output of $7,658,921. The fresh census has not yet been made but information in the hands of the department of commerce shows that some 150 firms are engaged in the manufacture of slot machines and that the value and volume of their product have increased even more rapidly than the numbers of the makers.

The gum machine is one of the oldest and it was a money-maker too for the owner or licensee. Indeed, many if not most slot machines have been leased rather than sold to the local owners. This has been due to lack of confidence on the part of business men. A man patents a slot machine. He induces a manufacturer to produce. The machine is turned out all shiny and bright. But how can the pennies be collected? The machines have to be put somewhere. The problem was solved by getting distributors, local boys, who would accept the machines on a lease basis. The local distributor would arrange for the placing of machines in stores, railway stations—anywhere at all. The lease provided that the pennies should be collected periodically and that at each collection there should be a split, a sort of royalty. This has been the way most of them have been operated.

Perhaps next to the gum machine is the weighing scale. Some of these not only tell your exact weight but also your fortune. The accuracy of neither is guaranteed. Neither are the weight and fineness of the coin put in the slots by the public guaranteed. The match-vending machine is found everywhere and there is the stamp slot machine, the only dealer actually permitted to sell stamps at a profit. There used to be more sorts of slot machines than there are now and, no doubt, some survivors are to be found in out-of-the-way places, standing next to cigar-store Indians and similar company. But they have to be shy about it. There were machines which showed still and moving pictures.

The use of the slot machine in vending is spreading to all manner of commodities. In any hotel washroom one can put a coin in a slot and by pushing a plug receives a squirt of perfume and usually receive it in the eye if not familiar with the operation and reasonably watchful. One may buy cigarettes. One may buy a full meal. One may buy collars and neckties, handkerchiefs. The coin has to be put in the slot before some turnstiles will turn to grant admission. All manner of musical instruments operate at the urge of a dropped coin.

Another thing greatly in favor of the manufacturer of the slot machine is the high rate of depreciation. Say a man wants peppermint chewing gum. He shoves in a penny, pushes the plunger and then discovers the machine is out of peppermint. He tries wintergreen and his coin sticks and the machine jams. He goes away disgusted. Another man of more bitter temperament comes along. He pushes a coin into the already jammed machine. It doesn't work. He pushes in another coin. He tries all the slots and, because the machine is jammed, he gets nothing. Then he kicks over the machine causing as much breakage as possible. A new one must be ordered from the manufacturers.

Q. Are holly ranches practicable? M. A. B.
A. Nature Magazine says that in Washington and Oregon, English holly has been planted and has now reached a stage where the branches are marketable. It takes fifteen or eighteen years to bring the trees to a stage where they are profitable, but thereafter they will be a source of income for many years. The leaves are quite similar to native holly, but the berries are more plentiful, are larger, and grow in closer clusters.

Q. Are Amos and Andy colored or white? D. E. F.
A. These radio fun makers are white.

Q. Where are musk oxen found? R. G.
A. They are now found only in Arctic America and their number is steadily declining.

Q. How high is Lake Titicaca? C. T. W.
A. Lake Titicaca, which is situated between Peru and Bolivia in the Andes Mountains, has an altitude of 12,635 feet.

Q. How long is navigation open through the St. Lawrence river? T. A.
A. It is open from seven and one-half to eight months each year.

Q. How old is Arthur Brisbane? G. J.
A. He was born December 12, 1864, so will be sixty-five upon his next birthday.

Q. Was Henry VIII married when he ascended the throne? N. T.
A. He married Catherine of Aragon after his father's death, but before he was crowned. Catherine was the widow of Henry's older brother, Arthur.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Diary of a modern Peppy: Hurried out to meet a train and, falling down steps of my inn, swore a pox on those who laughed mockingly. Nor save for my career he added to his man arise from a hard fall without appearing utterly foolish.

Then to see Frazier and Emma Hunt, back from their Alberta ranch to set off to London again. Home, where came by express six huge goblets of glass from Amos Carter in Ft. Worth, the largest I ever beheld and where I shall put them is a problem.

In the evening with my wife to drive to Ray Long's in Connecticut, the first time I have seen his new estate, and Hugh and Sadie Murray there, also Hattie Belle Johnston, Eva Steinmetz, Otis Ralston, Reinhold and Verna Werren, and I kissed all the ladies. Home late.

Fifty-seventh street is to have the largest swimming pool in America and will feature a college jazz band. Among tunes I have thought up for them to play are: "Asleep in the Deep," "Shall We Gather at the River?"—and this is not turning out as funny as I thought.

In Scotland there is a New York. It is the western shore of beautiful Loch Awe, where the sky is always the smoky blue of a desert twilight. There are quite a number of Scottish New Yorkers in the metropolis.

A cocktail diversion from Britain is called, appropriately enough, The Sparkler. It consists simply of a raw egg beaten up in a glass of champagne and has long been a "pick-me-up" for English jockeys. The drink not only has a reviving glow but will not add a fraction of weight. Three of them, however, and you're fried.

Speaking of jockeys, in other days, Broadway had a retired jockey or so among the flash spenders. They rode hard out of the saddle and wound up with a benefit—and quick. Many jockeys to-day, however, have attained financial independence in retirement.

YOUR HEALTH

An Ounce of Prevention is Worth a Pound of Cure.

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland

To have anything interfere with the hearing is disagreeable indeed. Usually deafness is a matter of very slow progress. Sometimes, however, like a clap of thunder, there comes on sudden deafness.

The most common cause for this experience is the movement of a plug of wax into a new position. This wax has been accumulating for months, perhaps for a year or more.

A bath may permit the admission to the ear canal of just enough water to displace the mass. Or the water softens the edges of the ball of wax and the detached material may fall in the limited space.

The deafness that comes so suddenly may disappear just as quickly. Efforts at relief by poking the ear with the little finger may be successful. The wax is moved away from the ear canal, or uterine just enough to permit the sound waves to get past it.

It is rare for such an accumulation of wax to take place. It is safe to say that it never will take place if you do not fuss with the ears.

Many persons practice the bad habit of inserting into the ear canal, a toothpick, hairpin, or even the end of a pencil. Such an instrument may readily push the wax into the ear. Repeated day after day, there gradually grows up a ball of wax of considerable size.

Many times I have said, in jest, of course, that nothing should be put in the ear except the point of the elbow. It is a mistake to use any instrument in an attempt to clean this organ. Left to itself, the wax will carry itself out of the ear.

If you suspect that there is more wax than should be, let your doctor use the syringe, washing it out with water. It may be necessary to apply a little olive oil to soften the mass. The next day it can be removed with water and without pain.

Should it happen that the mass almost fills the canal, the oil will fill up this passageway and increase the deafness. This will disappear when the water causes the plug to come away, clearing the passage. Many a person is going about with impaired hearing from this cause. When the deafness can be overcome so easily it is a pity to endure it.

All in Four Months.

Whether or not we admire all the policies of the British Labor government, we must admit that, in the four months of its existence, it has shown a vigorousness of action unusual for Downing street. It has, at the same time, shown a complete disregard for the curvilinear methods of the older statesman. Because of these two features it can point to three important international achievements, two of which, at least, will commend themselves to every political student.

The most important, of course, is the understanding between Premier Ramsay MacDonald and President Hoover by which their respective countries pledge co-operation in preserving world peace, possibly as one Washington correspondent suggests, a turning point in world history. But only a little less significant than the understanding itself is the manner in which it was reached.

Premier MacDonald took office in June. In July he announced his intention to visit the United States. The visit was made in October and a five-hour chat produced what we believe to be an epochal document. Labor cut clean across the lines of precedent and diplomatic maneuvering and produced results that should have deep effect on future international parleying.

The second triumph came at The Hague in August. The nations had assembled to ratify the Owen D. Young reparations plan by which Germany's conditional payments to the Allies were to be reduced. England was to be the greatest sufferer by the reduction, but since England had been fairly yielding in the matter of war debts, belief prevailed that the plan would go through. In any case, it was entirely unprecedented that the representative of any nation should fear an international conference up to the center, so to speak.

Philip Snowden, crippled chancellor of the exchequer in the Labor cabinet, did just that. He told the commission, and his words were not glossed by any diplomatic veneer, that they might go home unless they divided Germany's reduction fairly among the nations. The world stood aghast, but Snowden sat tight. A few days later England procured at least 80 per cent of her demands.

Snowden's triumph brought his country about $10,000,000 a year, but his modus operandi is even more noteworthy. A French commentator declared he had immeasurably advanced the cause of world peace because he had demonstrated that an international conference can be converted into a reality without imperiling international relations. In other words, Snowden refused to be a party to the great besetting sin of international conferences—the unwillingness to face unpleasant situations.

The third major achievement of the Labor government is the understanding, yet to be ratified, with Russia for the resumption of diplomatic relations. We wonder whether all British and American observers will regard this as a step in the right direction, but it is at least to be admitted that the MacDonald cabinet has practically cleaned up the question of Anglo-Russian relationships in four months after it hung fire for five years.

The record of the Laborites to date certainly can not be impeached on the grounds of lethargy.—Detroit Free Press.

An unjust insurance claim paid is an unjust assessment against You

The rate that you pay for your insurance is determined by the probable amount of insurance claims that must be paid by the insurance company.

When an insurance company withholds temporarily the payment of a loss, and takes all the time required to make necessary appraisals and investigations, it actually is safeguarding the interests of everybody who pays for insurance protection.

It is not easy for the average business man to order EXACTLY the kind or amount of insurance protection that he needs. That is the function of this agency to offer sound advice and dependable service.

MUSICAL REVUE
HIT AT CERAMIC

Lois Moran makes her bow as a singer and dancer in "Words and Music," Fox Movietone all singing, dancing and talking musical revue at the Ceramic theater today.

Miss Moran sings two numbers, as well as playing the lead throughout the story. Co-featured with her are Tom Patricia and David Percy, while Helen Twelveteeths, Frank Albertson and Elizabeth Patterson have prominent supporting roles.

Before deciding on a screen career, Miss Moran, a native of Pittsburgh, studied dancing and voice in Paris. She became a member of the Paris Opera ballet.

After her success in "Stella Dallas" she was signed by Fox Films and definitely abandoned her work as a singer and dancer and the development of Fox Movietone gave her a chance to display her musical comedy talents.

The music for "The Presentation" and "Hunting" numbers in which Miss Moran appears, was written by Dave Stamper, whose songs have graced many Broadway productions for a dozen years.

TROUPERS' LOVE
STORY AT STATE

When the debutantes of Park Avenue society rub elbows with the denizens of Broadway's stage, sparks are sure to fly and hearts are sure to break in one or both of the rival camps.

That is the working formula of Arthur Train's notable novel "Illusion" and it is also the recipe for Paramount's all-talking picturization of the Train opus which co-features Charles (Buddy) Rogers and Nancy Carroll and which opened at the State theater.

Buddy is a successful magician. Nancy is the partner in his act. Both are circus-reared. Both are troupers. But Buddy is society-conscious, and he begins to get himself liked by the idle rich who are unaware of his far from elite background. He pays court to a young heiress who likes him very much until she learns that he is only an old circus man's son. Then she flits him.

In the meantime, Nancy, who was Buddy's first love, becomes disconsolate. She goes right on with her magic act, using a new partner, but her heart is not in the stage any more. At this point in the story an amazing and thrilling anti-climax is introduced. It would not be fair to reveal this bit of action here.

CANNED MUSIC ON TRIAL

THIS is the case of Art vs. Mechanical Music in Theaters. The defendant stands accused before the American people of attempted corruption of musical appreciation and discouragement of musical education.

Theaters in many cities are offering synchronized mechanical music as a substitute for Real Music. If the theatre-going public accepts this vitiation of its entertainment program a deplorable decline in the Art of Music is inevitable.

Musical authorities know that the soul of the Art is lost in mechanization. It cannot be otherwise because the quality of music is dependent upon the present mood of the artist, upon the human contact, without which the essence of intellectual stimulation and emotional rapture is lost.

Is Music Worth Saving?

No great volume of evidence is required to answer this question. Music is a well-nigh universally beloved art. From the beginning of history men have turned to musical expression to lighten the burdens of life, to make them happier. Aborigines, lowest in the scale of savagery, chant their songs to tribal gods and play upon pipes and shark-skin drums. Musical development has kept pace with good taste and ethics throughout the ages, and has influenced the gentler nature of man more powerfully perhaps than any other factor.

Has it remained for the Great Age of Science to snub the Art by setting up in its place pale and feeble shadow of itself?

sounds than were ever presented before on the talking screen, are seen and heard at the American theater in "The Hole in the Wall."

Claudette Colbert, as the slender beauty who turns criminal for revenge upon a wealthy woman who had wronged her, is ravishingly lovely in spite of the dire status to which she has fallen in the play.

Edward G. Robinson as "The Fox," who is the "brains" of the band of criminals that preys upon the rich people of the city by fake spiritualistic methods is a convincing heavy.

Further support for Miss Colbert is offered by a veteran cast including Barry Macollum, whose weird "banshee" wail will linger long in the ears of his audience.

Donald Meek, Louise Closser Hale, Nelly Savage, Alan Brooks, David Newell, Katherine Emmet and last but not least, Marcia Kagno, a four-year old tot who is kidnapped in the story and who supplies more than ample "heart-interest" in the picture.

BETWEEN YOU AND ME

BY JOAN.

With keen interest we watched a squirrel storing acorns in his underground abode. He was making provision for the future. Just a little squirrel with instinct enough to plan for his future! And there are men and women who seemingly have no thought for the proverbial "rainy" day—men who've never protected their homes by carrying Fire Insurance and women who've never carried Automobile Liability Insurance. The importance of sufficient insurance protection cannot be questioned. The Lee C. Cooper Agency are Specialists in writing all forms of Insurance.

We know two young ladies who bought green velvet dresses last week. No doubt there are others so we hasten with the news that we saw green pumps at Bendheim's that will match them perfectly. One model in rich suede and kid has an insouciant little bow to complete its charm—another in green suede with lizard-calf toe and slender heel is also very striking. Considering beauty, smartness and economy they leave nothing to be desired.

Whether it's a hair-cut or a marcel; a water-wave or a permanent those experts at The Stern Beauty Shoppe instinctively recognize the lines and points of contour and with clever fingers they work for the effect that will truly express your individuality. They employ only the most modern of scientific methods—which is the reason particular women visit this Salon regularly.

I insist there's no such thing as "blue Monday" for the woman who sends her washing to The Troy Wet Wash Laundry. Why do women spend their strength and patience in the drudgery of washing when they can send everything from a hankie to an all-wool blanket to this laundry with the perfect assurance they will be carefully washed and rinsed in water of "just the right temperature"? And never any danger to delicate fabrics or colored clothes as only the mildest soaps are used. Save wash-day for those little "odds and ends" and send your next washing to The Troy.

If we could sew like some women we couldn't resist these new Belding silk tweeds at Ogilvie's. Never were materials more beautiful than they are this season. Here's two that held our eye the longest. A golden tan and brown check on a mottled background of warm, leafy brown hues. And the other a subdued check pattern also, in the most captivating shades of green with tiny jots of capucine. Such a marvelous quality, you'll not want to miss them!

No edifice is raised without a foundation—no success is won without a plan. Do you dream of making an attractive salary in the future? You are the architect of your own future and fortune. There's a growing demand for the artist. If you have any talent along this line enroll now in one of Mrs. Harriet Anderson's Art classes and make your dreams come true. Adv.

Restless Children

Children will fret, often for no apparent reason. But there's always one sure way to comfort a restless, fretful child. Castoria! Harmless as the recipe on the wrapper; mild and bland as it tastes. But its gentle action soothes a youngster more surely than some powerful medicine that is meant for the stronger systems of adults.

That's the beauty of this special children's remedy! It may be given the tiniest infant—as often as there is any need. In cases of colic, diarrhea, or similar disturbance, it is invaluable. But it has everyday uses all mothers should understand.

A coated tongue calls for a few drops to ward off constipation; so does any suggestion of bad breath. Whenever children don't eat well, don't rest well, or have any little upset—this pure vegetable preparation is usually all that's needed to set everything to rights. Genuine Castoria has Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper. Doctors prescribe it.

Selective As a Needle's Point

This very evening, in your own home, you can have the greatest radio yet produced — and pay no more — perhaps a lot less — than for sets offering none of the startling new features of the new Atwater Kent Screen-Grid.

Three stations within a tiny part of an inch on your dial—instantly separated! Yes, sir! At last you can have a radio that radio engineers have almost despaired of ever achieving—a radio of 10-KILOCYCLE SELECTIVITY—the goal of the laboratory's dreams—and you can have it in your home right now! And remember, along with this phenomenal selectivity you get every other better thing that Atwater Kent Screen-Grid Radio offers. Truer tone! No hum to cloud its beauty! Greater volume when you need it! Longer reach! Station separation as fine as the point of a needle!

REV. DR. WESTFALL CLOSES METHODIST CELEBRATION

BUDGET FUND CANVASS FOR $20,000 OPENS

Rev. Dr. Hawkins Occupies Pulpit In Evening.

OTHER SERVICES

Orchard Grove Church Hears Pastor of 22 Years Ago.

Exalting the virtues of salvation in its origin, purpose and results, the Rev. Dr. Daniel Westfall, business manager of the Pittsburgh Christian Advocate, and a prominent clergyman of the West Virginia conference, closed the formal services incident to the one hundred and second anniversary of the First Methodist church's founding here yesterday morning.

In the afternoon, members were visited by workers seeking a $20,000 budget fund for 1930.

In the evening, the Rev. Dr. W. R. O. Hawkins, resumed his pastoral preaching by discussing the theme, "Pentecost in 1930," which all churches of the denomination will celebrate.

"There is no theme commensurate with that of human redemption" asserted the Rev. Dr. Westfall in the morning. He stressed the adverb and the adjective attached to the word salvation in the affirmation of Paul: "How shall we escape if we neglect so great a salvation."

Pimples Cleared Away

Muncie, Ind.—"Resinol Soap has worked wonders for me. I had been bothered for a few years with pimples on my face and had tried various soaps and lotions in an effort to overcome this condition, but without success. Resinol Soap was recommended to me, so I tried it and have used it ever since. It not only restored my skin to a healthy normal condition, but it has kept it so."

(Signed) Mrs. J. O. Dailey.

Resinol is recommended by doctors everywhere for almost all types of skin disorders—eczema, rashes, pimples, cloudy complexion. Spread on a little Resinol Ointment at night, then wash off with Resinol Soap and hot water in the morning. Do this once a day. Try it yourself. At all druggists.

DEATH ROLL

Mrs. Amy Hynes.
Mrs. Amy Hynes, 46, wife of Arthur G. Hynes, died today in her home, 715 1/2 Main street.
Besides her husband, she leaves two daughters, Mrs. Alvin Arner, Youngstown, and Miss Kathleen Hynes, at home; her mother, Mrs. John Auberger, and five sisters, Mrs. Charles E. Read, Monaca, Pa.; Mrs. David McDevitt, Dayton; Mrs. J. C. Von Wechem, Saranac Lake, N. Y., and Mrs. C. W. Holler, and Mrs. Alfred Stoddard, East Liverpool.
Mrs. Hynes was a member of St. John's Lutheran church.

Harry F. Cramer.
Harry F. Cramer, 26, of 2104 Ohio avenue, died yesterday at the City hospital.
Mr. Cramer, who formerly lived at Monaca, Ohio, was employed by the Pittsburgh Crutcher Steel company at Midland, Pa.
Besides his widow, he leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cramer; five brothers, Albert, John, Edward, Floyd and Melvin, and two sisters, Mrs. Agnes Brown and Miss Betty May Cramer, East Liverpool.

Funeral services will be held in the home at 2 p. m. Wednesday in charge of the Rev. Brooks Morgan, pastor of the Oakland Free Methodist church. Burial will be made in Spring Grove cemetery.

Today twice occupied the Orchard Grove Avenue Methodist Episcopal church pulpit, of which he was the first pastor and under whose ministry the recently rededicated structure was erected in 1906. He was given an enthusiastic reception.

"Yours will be the church of the future for people ultimately will leave these in the downtown centers," he predicted. "You have a great responsibility, a greater opportunity and a wonderful heritage that has come down to you in the ideals and purposes of those who built this house as a place in which future generations may worship."

Crowds attended the morning service. Many visitors joined the congregation again in the evening. Following both meetings the Rev. Mr. Nicholson was kept busy greeting old friends and neighbors in which departure Mrs. Nicholson, who accompanied him, was kept equally active.

"It has been one of the most wonderful demonstrations that I have ever seen given to a former pastor anywhere in my ministry," declared the Rev. J. W. Naramore, the pastor, who assisted in the preliminary services.

Special Musical Program.
Directed by Charles Price the choir and the congregation sang the hymns that were known to be the favorites of the former shepherd of the church. As a further musical contribution, Clifford Smith sang "How Beautiful The Mountain" in the morning. In the evening, with Mrs. H. Dan Smith, he sang "Drifting." Then also he was a part of a quartet in which were also Charles Price, Mrs. Hattie Hagood and Mrs. H. E. Crawford. They sang "How Sweet The Name of Jesus."

Arriving by motor on Friday the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Nicholson were the guests of Mrs. J. T. Smith, of St. Clair avenue that evening. During the remainder of their stay they were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dunlap, of Montgomery avenue. They returned to their homes today.

"The real truth is that we as churchmen have not really given God a fair opportunity to demonstrate Christianity fully," he said last night. "We often sing 'How Sweet The Name of Jesus' but are we quite genuine in our comments if we lack the spirit of sacrifice and concern for those not belonging to the Master which were his cardinal virtues and characteristics?"

"The world is suffering for the want of reality. Are we real in singing that which we may not actually profess? Are we engaged in constructive Christian work? Or is our attitude to Christianity such as to delay the coming of His kingdom. Is your church membership real? Is your experience with God actual?"

He noted the change that had taken place in the world since he was in East Liverpool before the dominance of the machine age and the materialism that has come to the home.

Salvation Army.
Here on their semi-annual inspection tour, Col. Herbert Roberts, of Cleveland, commander of the East Ohio division of the Salvation Army, spoke at both services in the West Third street citadel yesterday. Accompanied by Mrs. Roberts and Staff Captain Peter Crispell, he arrived here Saturday afternoon.

He spoke in the morning on "The Union of the Holy Spirit." He said it was necessary to accept Paul's viewpoints as enunciated in the book of Romans on the Holy Spirit.

Col. Roberts told of Commander Eva Booth, after years of effort being finally enabled to procure as her own possession the table in Nottingham, England, beside which her father, the late General William Booth, the founder of the army, was converted in 1844.

"At a recent meeting in the Brooklyn Academy of Music more than 2,000 persons reconsecrated their lives to God's service when this table was exposed to view," he said.

Col. Roberts and Captain Crispell returned to Cleveland today following inspection of a new system of books installed here. Mrs. Roberts will remain for a meeting with the members of the women's corps of the army.

AUTOS KILL 5 OVER WEEK-END

Hit-run Driver is Blamed at Barberton.

By International News Service.
Automobile accidents took a comparatively light toll in Ohio during the week-end. Five persons were either killed or fatally injured. Many injuries were recorded. Usually the accident toll numbers above 10.

A hit-and-run motorist struck and killed John A. Rudd, 56, prominent Barberton man and superintendent of the Citizens' hospital there. He was found dead along a road near Royal Oak yesterday.

Charles Long, 19, of Ironton, was fatally injured in a collision near that city.

Howard Brown, 13, died in a Toledo hospital as the result of injuries which he sustained when his bicycle was struck by a truck.

William Steimer, 26, was killed in Cincinnati when he was run down by a truck. The alleged driver, Milton Jarvis, was charged with manslaughter.

Mrs. Madge Thompson, 27, was killed in an automobile accident near Columbus.

The list of the injured will number more than three score.

Man is Shot; Woman Held.
CLEVELAND, Oct. 21.—(INS).—Hysterically crying that she "only meant to scare him," Mrs. Jenny Bruno, 22, was detained by police for questioning today with regard to the wounding of Peter Zeen, 32, laborer, yesterday afternoon.

Levy Support Asked

fully guarded by frequent cleansing and fumigation.

"When you consider all these items of expense, you will understand why it requires the very strictest economy to operate the hospital on an average per day cost of $4.46.

"Hospital service may seem expensive but based on what it furnishes, you will find it most moderate in price.

Charity Work Explained.
"Last year 60 cases were investigated by the admission committee and found to be worthy of admission as strictly charity cases. Approximately 70 more cases were rushed to the hospital as accident or emergency cases requiring immediate hospital service to save life. In such a case, no one has ever been turned away and no citizen with a human heart would ask or expect such cases to be turned down."

"No charity cases from outside the city of East Liverpool are accepted, other than such emergency cases as noted above. The actual cost to the City hospital for charity work has averaged $10,000 per year for the past several years. This does not include the difference between the price of $3.00 per day charged in the wards and the actual average cost per day of $4.46.

"Occasional complaints are heard because patients are asked to pay in advance. This is practically a universal rule with all hospitals. It would certainly be unfair to the public if we admitted without charge those who are able to pay or whose friends are able to pay for them. On the other hand, we do not refuse to provide hospital service to any citizen of East Liverpool who actually needs such service and is utterly unable to pay for it."

"The members of the city council have each year voted all they could possibly appropriate to the charity work at the City hospital. For the past five years it has averaged exactly $4,637. It has been less than half the amount of $10,000 which has actually been expended each year for charity work."

"Suppose we voted for our schools less than half the amount necessary to pay the staff of teachers? Suppose we appropriated less than half the amount necessary to pay our firemen? Suppose we had only enough funds to employ one-half our present police force? The situation would be regarded as most alarming. And yet there is no institution in the city so essential to the saving of life and the comfort of the suffering as the hospital."

"It has been compelled to operate as best it could on less than half the appropriation necessary to pay for the actual charity work done. In our neighboring state of Pennsylvania all public hospitals receive state aid from taxation. The city of Washington, Pa., with less population than East Liverpool, has a hospital costing $949,000 and receives approximately $50,000 per year from the state. In our own state many cities have large tax levies and others raise by campaigns annually or at stated intervals the large sums necessary to support their hospitals."

"As a citizen of East Liverpool, desirous of providing for yourself and others the safety and protection of modern hospital service, will you not regard it as a privilege to vote for the tax levy of three-fourths of one mill on Nov. 5th?"

One Bath a Year... is it enough?

A BATH every twelve months? Unthinkable you say. Yet recent figures issued by the Bureau of the Census tell us that on the average our suits and coats are actually cleaned even less frequently than this.

That suit you wear—if you could sift it; if you could tumble it; if you could clean, rinse and dry it as we do when you send it to us—would yield a full half pound of dust, dirt, and grime.

You owe it to yourself to protect your health from this menace.

Send us your suits, gloves, hats, coats, dresses, waists and blouses, and other apparel. In addition to cleaning them for you we will also conserve and sterilize—first by gently sousing in the purest of solvents; next by carefully drying in a breeze of warm, fresh air, and finally, by pressing by a special process which permits live, purifying steam to circulate through every pore of the fabric.

Telephone today and we will call immediately.

Wells Plant Chief

Helmer Engineering company of Detroit.

Fourteen of the 31 jiggers, which will be used in the manufacture of large plates and other flat ware, are equipped with what is known as the W & W. ware driers which are operated with a chain. The five cup and 14 small flat ware jiggers have McMaster's driers.

Labor-saving Machinery.
The plant has also eight decalcomania machines built by the Frank Auld company of East Liverpool. These machines, which have been in the No. 6 Laughlin plant for about two or three years, not only are labor-savers but also provide better results in decorations. Each machine will provide jobs for at least six girls.

One of the labor-savers to be used at the new plant is the Lamson conveyor. Operated by motor, it will carry ware from the dipper's bench to the kiln shed where it will be placed in saggars which are brought from the end of the kiln where they are drawn to the place of entrance at the opposite end.

The Lamson conveyors have been in use at the Mt. Clemens, Mich. pottery for several years and have also proved a success in rubber plants at Akron. This is an improvement over both the No. 6 and 7 plants which are considered modern plants.

The plant is heated from the kilns.

The factory, built by the H. K. Ferguson company of Cleveland, is 1,200 feet in length and more than 300 feet in width. It connects with the No. 6 and 7 plants.

FIRE SWEEPS STORE IN MIDLAND, CAUSING $12,500 DAMAGE

RESTAURANT ALSO HIT BY SUNDAY BLAZE

Flames Cut Path Through A. B. Katz Place.

CAUSE UNKNOWN

Second Fire Damages Home of C. B. McAndrews.

MIDLAND, Pa., Oct. 21.—Fire of undetermined origin, which was discovered at 4:30 o'clock Sunday morning by Patrolman Ernest Moore caused $12,500 damage to A. B. Katz's general store, 538 Midland avenue, and the Rudolph Valentino restaurant on the second floor of the two-story brick building.

The flames had spread throughout the entire store when the firemen arrived. Damage to the Katz stock was estimated at $10,000, while the building was damaged to the extent of $2,000. The smoke caused $500 damage to the fixtures in the basement. Katz, owner of the store, who lives in the rear of the establishment, was in Pittsburgh when the fire broke out.

Blaze originating from defective telephone wiring caused $25 damage at the home of C. B. McAndrews, 1120 Beaver avenue, at 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Garments hanging in the hallway leading from the kitchen to the cellar were ignited. The flames had been extinguished when the firemen arrived.

CLASS HONORS JOSEPH WEIR

MIDLAND, Pa., Oct. 21.—Joseph Weir, Jr., Beaver, today had been elected president of the Abraham Lincoln boys' class of the First Presbyterian church. HURTT WILL HEAD LEGION

Midland Post Chief Will be Installed Tonight.

MIDLAND, Pa., Oct. 21.—M. A. Hurtt, former member of the executive committee, will be installed as commander of the Midland post No. 48, American Legion, at the semi-monthly meeting at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the borough building. Hurtt will succeed Attorney E. M. Wallover.

M. J. Kane, Allegheny, twenty-sixth district committeeman; Charles S. Edwards, Rochester, chairman of the Beaver county committee; and Victor Pate, Ambridge, district committeeman, will be in charge of the installation. R. A. Strayer and Dr. J. A. Lutz will qualify as first and second vice commanders, respectively. Others officers to be installed are: Historian, George A. Munns; chaplain, Attorney E. M. Wallover; sergeant-at-arms, Truman Rodfong; finance officer, A. Keys; adjutant, Harry Holloway; delegates to the county committee, Wallover and Robert Lloyd.

Members of the executive committee will include H. S. Stevenson, C. A. Kennedy, M. N. Lindsey, Harry Holloway and M. A. Cooper.

HENRY BRODINE DIES IN CHICAGO

MIDLAND, Pa., Oct. 21.—Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brodine, 713 Ohio avenue, are attending the funeral of the former's father, Henry Brodine, who died Friday noon at his home in Chicago, after a short illness. Mr. and Mrs. Brodine will return Wednesday.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years, and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, just a healing, soothing vegetable laxative safe and pleasant.

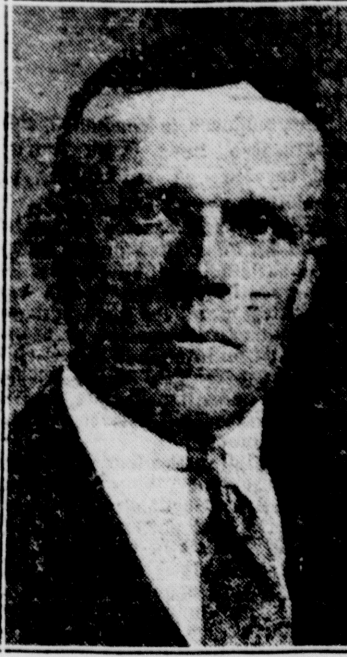

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They help cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth," bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you should find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets.

Thousands take them every night to keep right. Try them. 15c, 30c, 60c.

First Ward Council

Walter McClelland.

Walter McClelland, bricklayer, Republican, and William L. Mautz, kilnman, Democrat, are candidates for the First ward council seat to succeed Edward Green, Oakland grocer, at the November election.

McClelland won the Republican nomination over Edward Lee, while Mautz won the Democratic nomination over Benjamin Zeigler.

McClelland was born in Pleasant county, W. Va., February 17, 1881, a son of T. W. McClelland, veteran of the Civil and Indian wars. He came to East Liverpool in 1900. With the exception of three or four years which he spent in Pittsburgh, he has lived here in the interim. He is employed by J. A. Bryan, brick contractor.

He has always lived in East End; is affiliated with the Junior Order of United American Mechanics and Knights of Malta, and is a member of the Pennsylvania Avenue Episcopal church. He is married and lives at 1210 Pennsylvania avenue.

Mautz was born in East Liverpool, January 25, 1894, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Mautz, 1839 Ohio avenue. He has been employed by the Homer Laughlin China company for 21 years, being bench boss at the No. 3 plant for 10 years. Two years ago he was transferred to the No. 7 plant at Newell.

He was married to Miss Mabel Cox on June 25, 1913. He has been a trustee in the Boyce Methodist Episcopal church for 15 years and is the teacher of the Men's Bible class. Mautz's father is a Republican but the son has always been a Democrat.

Mr. and Mrs. Mautz live at 1833 Michigan avenue.

Many Children's Diseases Result from Lack of Proper Nourishment

FATHER JOHN'S MEDICINE Supplies Vitamines

Fifty Years in One Family

Mrs. E. O. Deery, Jr., 1847 East 36th St., Flatbush, Brooklyn, N. Y., writes: "Father John's Medicine has been a help and safeguard against colds and sickness in our family for three generations. The first time your medicine was used was about 1875 by my mother's mother in Ware, Mass."

Children who do not secure from their food the nourishment necessary for growth and strength become weak, thin and pale; they cannot hold their own at school or play; they take cold easily and tire quickly.

Father John's Medicine supplies in easily assimilated form the vitamins which children sometimes do not secure from their food. It is pure and wholesome. 75 years of success.

REPAIRING RADIATORS BATEYS' JOB

Specialize in This Line
Of Automotive
Work.

There is a specialist in every line of endeavor and here, G. M. Batey & Son are specialists in roofing and automotive repair work with a well established reputation for workmanship, results and fair dealing.

Repairing of radiators for automobiles is a very important business in the automotive world and the G. M. Batey & Son's company is equipped to do this work correctly.

They are experts in the work and their rates are reasonable.

No matter how costly or how high powered your automobile may be, or whether it has been on the road for a half-dozen years or just out of the factory paint shop, it can't run without a radiator and the radiator must have water in it.

Being on the front end of the automobile, the radiator frequently gets into trouble.

A little punch in the ribs and Mr. Radiator is done for—and, it might be pointed out, so is the automobile. Anti-leak solutions and mixtures might solve your troubles for the time being but they can't give you a permanent job.

This is the work which you can entrust to Batey's and be perfectly satisfied as to results. You will get perfect work and not a botched-up job for Batey's have specialized in this business for years.

They also can be called for emergency soldering on not only radiators but other metal appliances as well, such as boilers, kettles and the like.

Purity Milk Meets Family's Every Need

For the Proper Nourishment of Babies and Growing Children, Milk is Needed as a Food; Purity Company Guarantees Its Product.

From the moment of birth until the final summons, every individual depends to some extent on milk for nourishment. It is a universal food. No food builds as milk does. With so much, then, depending on this single item of sustenance, should we not attach considerable importance to the quality of the brand which we select to be delivered to our doorstep every morning?

The Purity Ice Cream and Milk company bids for your patronage and asks nothing more than it is permitted to leave you a bottle some morning. And is confident that it will meet with favor. This firm is well established as one of the leaders in its own particular line in this section of the country. Its plant is modern and up-to-date in every particular, and always is clean and sanitary throughout.

Well Kept Shoes Mean Much In Attaining Dress Success

Joe Galipo, Shoe Repairer, Guarantees Workmanship; Latest Machinery and Methods in Use at His Shop.

Observe your fellow man and catch a glimpse of yourself.

Busy with our own interests and the fulfillment of our own desires, we see only the virtues of ourselves and the errors of others. Take a moment some day and observe. There are some folks who dress because they must wear clothes. There are others who endeavor to achieve a well dressed appearance but fail because they do not know the essentials. There are still others who appear to have found the secret. Their appearance is immediately marked. Their clothing is not flashy but consistently well kept. From their hat to their shoes, their dress details harmonize and the ensemble, consequently, pleases.

An individual is more apt to sport a new hat, a resplendent necktie and fancy shirt than he is to keep his shoes polished. And the shoes are probably the most important item in the whole. The fellow with run-down heels, shoddy, ill-kept shoes can never hope to achieve that well-dressed appearance, no matter how much money he spends on his other garments. It just simply can't be done. And a woman's slippers simply MUST be right. Considering the small cost required to keep our footwear at its best and in conformity with the rest of our attire, there is no excuse for presenting a shoddy appearance. It's surprising what half soles and heels, or a stitch here and there where needed, can accomplish for a pair of shoes which otherwise might be dumped into the rag bag. And it's surprising the results that Joe Galipo can produce in remaking footwear. Galipo's shop is conveniently located to the business district, in Fourth street, just across from the Y. M. C. A., and his workmanship is too well known to need any considerable comment. Galipo has been in the business of repairing shoes here for a long period of years. His shop is equipped with the latest in machinery and tools for the proper working of leather. His materials are first class and his methods guaranteed in every respect. The next time you have that run-down feeling about the heels, drop in to Galipo's.

TRAVELERS FIND SERVICE AT M'KINLEY

Like Quarters at One Of City's Oldest Hostelries.

The McKinley hotel, 319 East Second street, continues to serve the traveling public as one of the oldest, well established hostelries of its kind in the district.

This hotel, because of service rendered to countless hundreds of patrons, continues to be known as one of the best places to stop in East Liverpool.

There is no greater necessity in business life than the modern hotel. With the ever increasing number of men who, because of business demands, are forced to live away from their home for a great part of the time, the modern hotel proprietor has realized that the public has learned much as to what constitutes a modern hotel. The management of the McKinley hotel takes special pains to see that the service of its entire staff is as nearly perfect as it can be made.

The McKinley has all outside rooms with running water and also affords rooms with private bath. Travelers are extended an invitation to make it their headquarters while in East Liverpool.

The rates of this hotel, which is operated on the European plan, are very reasonable and the service compares favorably with many other hotels in larger cities where higher rates are charged.

Rooms are available at $1.25 and up. It is also possible for the traveler or tourist to obtain weekly rates in the event he remains for any length of time.

The McKinley is conveniently located adjacent to the Pennsylvania railroad.

Nervous, Run Down Condition Responds To Owa-Ton-Na

"My Nerves Were in Such a Terrible Condition That "I Had Given Up Hope That There Was Any Help For Me," Says Mrs. Miller.

Women find in Owa-Ton-Na a particularly helpful remedy in nervous, run down conditions because of the fact that it obtains results not through the use of doping, deadening, harmful drugs but through the elimination of harmful poisons and a restoration to normal activity of important vital organs. The good it does for eager health seekers in kidney, liver and stomach disorders, rheumatism, neuritis, nervousness and a general run down condition of health is daily being told at Carnahan's Drug Store, 114 East Sixth street by the laboratory representative who has seen case after case who have reported remarkable results.

Mrs. Malinda Miller, 208 East Fourth street, East Liverpool tells of the remarkable good that Owa-Ton-Na has done for her in a condition which had defied all former treatment. She says:

"I was just getting to the point where I was a complete nervous wreck. My whole body seemed to be run down. Nothing seemed to function right, food which I used to enjoy had no taste and I just had to force myself to eat. Constipation was an ever present enemy which I had to fight with laxatives all of the time yet nothing seemed to do me any good.

"My liver was in terrible shape. I was tired, drowsy and all in most of the time. Dizzy spells with black spots before my eyes had me scared because I would get so weak and faint. Then my kidneys started to go back on me. Backache made my back feel as though someone had been jumping on it and I would just have to drag myself around. I was so nervous that at times I hardly knew what to do. For hours at night, I would toss around in bed trying to get some sleep.

"I had tried so many things in search for relief that I had almost reached the point of despair and when I first tried Owa-Ton-Na, I was afraid that it might be just like all the other medicines I have taken but it is different. My headaches left me and I could at last feel the way it was stirring up my liver and getting rid of a lot of the congestion that was causing me so much trouble. My constipation disappeared and I have had no trouble since in getting normal bowel function.

MRS. M. MILLER.

"My kidneys are acting normally and those terrible backaches with which I suffered all of the time have left me. What a relief it is to feel like your former self again. It certainly makes a difference on your outlook in life. Friends who knew the condition I was in remark about the change and I give all the credit to Owa-Ton-Na for it has done for me what no medicine ever did before. Anyone who is suffering, should certainly give this fine old Indian Remedy a good trial and I know they will be just as happy over the results as I am."

The case of Mrs. Miller is not an unusual one in the history of Owa-Ton-Na. Day after day all over this broad land similar cases are being reported where Owa-Ton-Na has conquered through the use of nature's own roots, herbs, barks and berries; not by doping, deadening, dangerous drugs. Why not learn for yourself the good that can be accomplished through its use? Reading what it has done for others, will not help you. Call to-day at Carnahan's Drug Store, and have a talk with the laboratory representative who will be glad to tell you of the merits of this fine old Indian Remedy, Owa-Ton-Na. Owa-Ton-Na is also sold in Carnahan's East End and Newell, W. Va. stores.

POTTERS ARE HUMBLLED BY ERIE EAST, 6 TO 0

Punt Which Falls Short Gives Foe Touchdown

Pennsylvanians Grab Ball on 10-yard Mark; Six-yard End Run, Four-yard Plunge Produce Sole Marker.

THE pigskin arched high over the sun-baked turf in Patterson Field Saturday afternoon. A thud in its ribs and up and on it went. A moment later it was booted back the other way. Fully a score of times Pottery City school punters matched kick for kick with their new rivals from East high of Erie, Pa. And then one went bad, just one out of that whole mess of punting and the Pennsylvanians converted it into the sole touchdown of the game which they captured by the single, but all sufficient, marker. The score was 6 to 0 and the Blue trailed again.

It was not because they weren't fighting in there. They haven't been lacking in this respect in any game this season. And their performance, considered from a technical standpoint, bettered that of any other game they've played this season.

In no single department could the visitors show superiority over the Blue and White, so closely drawn and hard fought was the game, unless it was their ability to make their touchdown when opportunity presented itself.

The last 10 yards are the hardest and this fact has been proved on more than one occasion this season on the local lot. But luck, or the breaks or something, appeared to be wearing the Erie colors.

Trostmiller, who played a great game for the Pennsylvanians at fullback, paved the way for the break in the last minutes of the third period when he got rid of a punt which covered some 50 or 60 yards and rolled out of bounds on the East Liverpool 20. The Potters dropped 10 yards on an attempt at right end and were back up on their own 20.

Johnson, whose punting had been one of the outstanding features of the Potters' play for more than two periods leading up to this particular point, went back to punt out. And, then it happened. The proximity of the goal posts might have caused him to hurry. But at any rate the ball rose into the air and dropped directly over the scrimmage line, into the midst of a gang of Erie linemen who gobbled it into their arms.

Sossy, a halfback, went flying around right end for six yards, being run out of bounds.

And then Trostmiller hit guard for four yards and the touchdown. The first period proved how easy it is to cheer one moment and mean the next.

It was this period which provided the Potters with their first and greatest scoring opportunity of the game.

Headlinesman Duffy, Belaire, declared during the progress of the game that he has never before seen so much fumbling on dry gridirons and it was a play of this kind which advanced the Potters deep into Erie territory to toward the end of the period. On an East Liverpool punt, Fred Altar, East Liverpool center, swooped down the turf to gobble up the ball after it had bounded out of the arms of the receiver. He planted it on the 30-yard stripe.

Take Ball to Erie 12-Yard Line. Bowen passed to Smith who made 12 yards and a first down on the play. Chetwin hit guard for five yards but the play was called back, both teams being off side on the maneuver.

Then Chetwin showed them he could do it again. He punched off another five yards as the whistle blew for the end of the period and the ball rested on the Erie 13.

Here was the glorious chance but how quickly it was dissipated. Chetwin took Altar's pass from center and ran back for a heave over the line. But no one was in sight, uncovered, and before he could get rid of the ball, Chetwin was bowled over for a 10-yard loss. The Potters then stabbed at left end and an eight-yard loss was the result. Traveling backward at an alarming rate of speed, Bowen decided to get rid of the ball and punted to the Erie 30.

Then followed an exchange of

Bishops Wallop Big Red

Over-confidence Believed to Have Hurt Miami.

By Jack Vincent.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 21.—The day is done, but the memories linger on—in the minds of the old 100,000 football fans who watched their various and sundry colleges disport themselves on the ancient and honorable gridiron Saturday.

Two ties were drawn from the moleskin fishpond and in most cases, except two, to be exact, the contests ended as the scribe forecast.

A highly touted and somewhat over-confident Miami university eleven dedicated Selby field of the Ohio Wesleyan university at Delaware and by allowing the bathing Bishops to surge through it for a 20-to-12 win. The Big Red team made both of its scores in the second half and for a time it looked like it would snatch a victory from defeat.

The Bishops bucked, however, and held that line. Perhaps it was a dose of psychology, which Coach Gauthier mixed, which won the all-important game for Wesleyan. The mentor issued a "bear" story Thursday which said none of his first stringers were on the injured list. That story reached Miami's ears and Miami believed, apparently. The writer was among those who swarmed the hook, line and sinker. If none of Coach Gauthier's men were on the injured list, they surely recovered with surprising speed.

Wesleyan in Cleveland. Miami faces a stiff game next week when it bows as host to Wittenberg. Ohio Wesleyan goes to Cleveland to play Western Reserve and there should be little doubt of that issue, meaning that the Delaware aggregation should storm through Western Reserve like a tidal wave.

Meanwhile, a general alarm should be sounded to watch Ohio university. The Bears' ran wild over Muskingum college for a 59-to-9 decision. They looked like they were built of championship timber and other Bix Six teams should beware. It is a formidable outfit. Western Reserve fell prey to Akron when the Zippers downed the Cleveland team for a 14-to-7 score. It just couldn't be helped. The university of Akron has a powerful gridiron machine and if anyone expected the game to end differently, he is awarded the bleacher seat on the one-yard line during the next rainy day.

Akron and Miami had not been scored upon up until Saturday, but that's just a memory now.

They've Got Nice Uniforms. Speaking of rainy days, it was just that for the student princes of Heidelberg when they journeyed to Springfield to scuffle with Wittenberg. The Lutherans amassed 13 points while the visitors were sent home with one of those disgraceful defeats. Heidelberg has a nice band, and its uniforms are stunning a cold said.

A Boston college team, which has not been defeated since 1927, added another laurel to its crown by taking an easy victory from the Dayton Flyers, 23 to 7. The Gem City gridirers, however, didn't really hope to emerge victorious from such an experience, and the fact that they scored on the eastern eleven gives them a moral victory though such things don't mean much when the tallies are being counted at the end of the season.

The two ties played resulted from the Cincinnati-Denison and Woster-Mt. Union tilts. Both ended in 6-to-6 scores. Cincinnati and Denison are the under-dogs of the "Big Six" conference and all that the tie denotes is that they are about of the same caliber. To Woster, however, goes a moral victory. Mt. Union should have defeated the Bolesmen, but the best it could do was to let things rest evenly.

VICTORIOUS BUCKS TO FACE HOOSIERS

Scarlet Offense Shows Punch Against Michigan; Defense Proves Marvel.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 21.—After having outfought and outsmarted the ponderous Michigan Wolverines for a 7 to 0 victory Saturday, before a holiday-spirited crowd of 57,000 souls, Ohio State university's gridiron gladiators today began preparations, which, they hope, machine should not experience much trouble in grinding out a win from the Hoosiers. Sam Willaman's charges looked good in the Ann Arbor scuffle. Their offensive showed they had somewhat of a punch, and their defense was a real football marvel. It is true the defense cracked now and then, but it held when the issues became desperate. Three times, the Michigan eleven pushed the oval within Ohio's 10-yard line only to have the Buckeyes take the ball away from Wolverines on downs.

HOLMAN - HALFBACK

The Bucks displayed a fighting spirit and a pugnacity which bodes ill for other opponents. Ohio started in the game fighting, and it was still fighting when the final gun barked out the tidings that Ohio State had beaten Michigan.

Indiana dropped its game with Colgate Saturday by a 21 to 6 score, and it also lost its game with Chicago the previous Saturday.

Consequently Ohio is apparently little concerned with the coming Indiana tilt. With far-seeing eyes, the Buckeyes are looking toward a November date when an Illinois team will come to Ohio's huge stadium to sell, if it can, the early season record of the "Scarlet and Gray."

Illinois tied with Iowa Saturday, seven all. Ohio snatched a win from Iowa the Saturday previous, but then, Glasgow, Iowa's plugging captain, was not in the Hawkeye's game here. He was in there Saturday, tough, and on the initial play after the first kick-off, he streaked down the field for 78 yards with the pigskin tucked snugly under his arm for Iowa's only score.

That indicates that Illinois is a little stronger than Ohio, but Ohio has that fighting spirit which won many a football game for an under-rated rival. That, the writer thinks, is the greatest part of the Ohio team.

Al Holman, quarterback, and Holcomb, Ohio's midget fullback, played a great game Saturday, and Fessler, too, was being mentioned for re-election as an all-American end again. In fact, the whole team exhibited a brand of football, which made Ohio look as if it might be built of championship timber.

Solomon Former Potter

From Batter-out to Battler is Mickey's Record.

FROM batter-out to battler! Boxing and dish making are miles apart but Mickey Solomon, the New Castle boxer who faces T. N. T. Gibbons, the Canton puncher, Thursday night in the main scrap of the Valley A. C. bill at Wellsville, spanned the gap and now today, instead of potting, he's punching.

Less than 19 years old, the New Castle middleweight is one of the most popular boxers in western Pennsylvania.

As Eddie Weygant, his manager, says: "He never stalls, he does the best he can all the time, he can punch, and he does that very well. I do not believe there is a middleweight in the world with more knockouts to his credit considering the number of fights he has had."

Solomon has stopped Young Guido, Young Johnson, Allan Beatty, Phil Scello, Pickles Donahue, Johnny Vivio, Jack Kilrain and 22 others.

A pottery strike, according to Weygant, made Solomon a battler. Solomon came out with his fellow workers and to date has failed to go back.

Boxing as well as he does, he earns a pretty decent sort of living for his mother and younger brother which, as a result of unfortunate circumstances, he has been forced to "daddy."

This may not mean anything to a lot of fans, but it indicates at least that Solomon knows what responsibility is. As a result he takes his work seriously and that work, it chances, is boxing.

Weygant authors the statement that he could make $5,000, right now, by selling Solomon's contract to any one of three managers who would be glad to get it.

Weygant says — "Solomon will win Thursday night."

Pros Beat Youngstown Lodge Eleven Here, 6-0

Halpate Passes to Lee From Eagles' 20-yard Line for Sole Tally of Game; Local at Salem Wednesday Night.

IN ONE of the best pro games of the season here to date, the East Liverpool Pros defeated the beefy Youngstown Eagles Sunday afternoon at Sherwood park. A lone touchdown was the margin of victory.

The score came in the first eight minutes of play following a consistent drive by the Pros into Youngstown territory.

With the ball on the Eagles' 20-yard line, Halfback Halpate passed to Lee, end, for 15 yards, and Lee trotted over the goal line with the pigskin. Halpate's boot was wide of the bar for the extra point.

The two teams were pretty evenly matched, although the visitors possessed an advantage in weight.

This the Pros offset by a versatile attack in which plunges, end runs and passes featured.

Halpate threatened the Eagles' goal line in the second period when he intercepted a Youngstown pass and got off to a 20-yard run. But the visitors braced and held for downs.

The locals completed seven out of eight forward passes. The Eagles launched an aerial attack in the final period, completing two heaves for 20 yards each but the Pros finally broke it up.

The East Liverpool eleven will play under the white lights Wednesday night at Salem.

A large delegation of local fans will probably accompany the squad to the Quaker town for the tilt with the Salem Studebakers. Action is scheduled for 8 o'clock.

Tigers Prevent Shutout

Kesler Runs Punt 85 Yards for Touchdown.

SALEM, O., Oct. 21.—Fighting a game fight all the way but unable to cope with the superior attack of the Red and Black, the Wellsville Tigers bowed to Salem, 32 to 6, Saturday afternoon at Reilly Field.

WELLSVILLE STAR INJURED

Morgan "Shadow" Williams, Wellsville backfield star, played what was probably his last game for the Orange and Black Saturday.

Williams was taken from the game with a broken collar bone and in all likelihood will be unable to play again this season. He received the injury in the third period after he had played a brilliant game.

Salem resorted to straight football for the most of their gains and touchdowns and only on rare occasions did they leave a pass or resort to deception.

The Tigers were unable to use their principal weapon, the forward pass, because of the fact that they were fighting in their own territory for a greater part of the time.

Beck, Whinnery and Smith opened holes in the Wellsville line for tremendous gains and each scored one or more touchdowns.

Morgan "Shadow" Williams starred for the Orange until he was compelled to leave the game on account of injuries.

To William Kesler, the Tiger fullback, goes the honor of producing the biggest thrill of the game when he caught Whinnery's kickoff in the third quarter and twisted his way through the whole Salem squad 85 yards for the sole Wellsville touchdown.

IRISH LOOM STRONG IN MIDWEST; TENNESSEE BELLWETHER OF SOUTH

Eastern Heads Guilt-tined by California, Executioners of West.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Some philosopher once said that you have to break a few eggs if you want an omelet, a philosopher being a man who will put on his Sunday suit in order to stand in the bread line. However, the eggs that sizzled over the intercollegiate gridiron today must have been left too long on the doorstep. They may have been broken for an omelet but they came out scrambled.

They couldn't be anything else with the following recipe for breakfast this morning: Princeton beaten in two of its first three games, Nebraska beaten and tied over the same period of play. Navy beaten, N. Y. U. and Yale beaten, Michigan beaten twice. A beating, too, for Georgia Tech, the 1928 national champions, and another for Georgia in its first game of the season. Also a beating for its conqueror, Oglethorpe, by St. Louis on Saturday. Likewise beatings for Alabama, Florida and Lafayette. The eggs were well beaten.

There were just as many good ones that managed to remain off the pan, however. Notre Dame, for one. This outfit brushed off its second conference victim in beating Wisconsin by three touchdowns on Saturday and, with victories over Indiana and the Navy, looks to be in for a big year.

Irish Mid-West Favorites.

Notre Dame today was not far from being the nominal leader of the middle west, just as Tennessee, by its victory over Alabama with the defeat of North Carolina, was the temporary bellwether of the south. Not to go too far with Notre Dame at this early juncture, it might be well to mention that it isn't playing Ohio State, Minnesota and Purdue, the current trail-breakers in the Big Ten.

A lot of eastern heads were guillotined on Saturday, including that of Pennsylvania by one of the lord high executioners of the far west, California, but when all the returns were in, it was found that this section still had championship contenders in plenty. Among the unbeaten teams here today were Dartmouth, Cornell, Villanova, Fordham, Boston college, Pittsburgh, the Army, Harvard, Carnegie Tech and W. and J.

Tennessee was the hot choice in the Southern conference with Tulane a contender purely on a sectional basis, while the southwest still was featuring Texas, Baylor and Texas Christian among its titular eligibles. As for the west coast, Stanford, U. S. C. and California again were in there contending, as always.

Favorites are Pressed.

Saturday was almost devoid of real upsets, yet it gave a lot of favorites some bad moments before the books were closed. California was supposed to beat Pennsylvania and it did. But not before Penn had the Bears trailing by a point in the first period. The better team won but it was so much better that it should have won by two or three touchdowns instead of one.

Minnesota likewise was a hot choice over Northwestern. The result? One of the classics of the year. Northwestern led by 7 to 6 in the second period, trailed at 9 to 7 in the third, then led again at 14 to 9. Then the Gophers ran up 17 points in the final quarter, proving themselves to be all that the doctor ordered. The Army-Harvard tie at 20 to 20 was another heartbreaker, Harvard leading 13 to 0 at half time, then falling behind at 20 to 13 on Cagle's inspiring running and finally tying the score with a long pass in the last minute of play. Yale also had to come from behind to beat Brown, conqueror of Princeton. So did the Navy to beat Duke, a distinct surprise. Likewise Illinois to tie Iowa, the short-ender, and Georgia to beat North Carolina, the crack-ers scoring twice in the last period. Bucknell won in the final period, too, beating Lafayette, 6 to 3, for one of the day's few surprises.

Another was Cornell's 13 to 7 victory over Princeton, the winning touchdown coming on a pass play in the second period. Somebody ran 90 yard against Villanova on the opening play but the "Villians" rallied to beat Catholic university.

Ohio Earns 7-0 Win.

As for Carnegie Tech, it earned no more than its scoreless tie with W. and J. in spite of Karic's disallowed touchdown in the second period.

Ohio State earned everything it got from Michigan, which was a 7 to 0 victory and one could say no less for Pittsburgh against Nebraska. The Huskers twice were down on the 5 yard line early in the racket but when Pitt got going in the second period, it forgot to stop. Sloan was largely responsible for Nebraska's late score.

Florida was "down" all the way to Georgia Tech while Tennessee got the only touchdown of the Alabama game by marching 45 yards in the second period. Purdue gave further evidence of its power against De Pauw, and Indiana displayed a lack of it in losing to Colgate. Something of a surprise was occasioned when Chicago scored only ten points on Ripon and the Aggies beat Kansas. There was none in connection with Stanford's easy win from Oregon State and U. S. C.'s scorching with Occidental.

Nor was Texas Christian's decision over the Aggies exceptional. In fact, the day was so normal it was extraordinary.

Lomond Eleven Winner

Midland Goal Crossed First Time This Year.

MIDLAND, Pa., Oct. 21.—Beaver Falls high school team which was defeated at the Twelfth street park here Saturday afternoon by the Lincoln high school eleven, 24 to 13, was the first team this season to score on the Blue and Gold squad. Midland's three successive victories this year had left the opponents without a point until Gibson and Moore of the upriver team plunged the line for touchdowns.

Beaver Falls set the scoring precedent in the first quarter when Gibson, quarterback, got away to the goal line. W. Spesak, Steel City right halfback, tied the score in the second period with a 45-yard run through the line.

Midland scored again in the third quarter. W. Spesak twice repeated his line plunge and got away for 12 points while Glass completed a 20-yard sprint for the final six-pointer for the Midlanders.

Beaver Falls scored their second touchdown and kicked the extra point in the first minutes of the last period. Tachovski had stopped about ten yards behind the line of scrimmage to pass to an end man. Instead he eluded the Lincoln high tacklers in his backfield and cut around left end for a 60-yard run to the five-yard line where he was stopped by Midland's safety man. Tachovski executed a splendid zig-zag course through the Steel City defense, dodging outstretched arms and jumping forms on the ground. Tachovski's pass to Morris scored the extra mark.

Leach, substitute on the Beaver Falls line, sustained injuries to his side in the last half and was taken from the field. "Tubby" Crichton was knocked out in the last period and was relieved by Milkovich, despite his effort to remain and finish the game.

Purple Fights Gamely But Bows In 26-0 Tilt

"Red" Miller Leads Attack for Lorahmen; Grabs Enemy Pass and Races 75 Yards for Initial Touchdown.

NEWELL, W. Va., Oct. 21.—Newell became a football community of the dyed-in-the-wool variety Saturday afternoon following Wells high's 26 to 0 conquest over Chester gridders on the local gridiron, the victory being the first for a Newell eleven in the many years of competition between the rival schools.

Coach Nate Lorah's combine had the upper hand for the greater part of the engagement, the visitors being able to penetrate Newell territory on only two occasions, once in the first period and again in the final.

There was too much "Red" Miller for the visitors who fought strenuously from whistle to whistle but couldn't click against at attack that wasn't to be stopped.

The Newell star provided a tip-off on the situation when he intercepted a Chester forward pass on his own 25 yard line in the opening period and ran 75 yards for the first touchdown of the battle.

Newell added another touchdown before the quarter had ended, on a pass from Manson to Miller, coupled with line plunges, Miller carrying the ball across.

The Newell eleven mixed them up to produce another marker in the second period, Kaufman boosting the count to 20 to 0 on a line plunge through left tackle.

A blocked Chester punt paved the way for Newell's final touchdown in the third quarter. Smith, Newell right end, scooped up the ball and crossed the line.

Chester fought gamely despite their scoring handicap and had carried the ball to the Newell three-yard line in the closing quarter when time was called.

"Red" Miller, Newell's right half back, was easily the outstanding performer in the Newell attack. He not only made most of the Newell gains but also put up a real game on the defense.

Manson, Kaufman and Sebring also played well. Brown, Swearingen and Milby were the Chester mainstays.

Substitutions—Midland, McKinnon for Reynolds; Milkovich for Crichton; Green for Spesak, and Ordick for Priester.

Four "10" Elevens Are Tied

Ohio State Blazes Way With Two Wins In Row.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Four Big Ten football teams today are tied for first place in the western conference following Saturday's battles which ended with Ohio State, Chicago, Minnesota and Purdue on top of the heap with unblemished records.

With one exception, Saturday's games brought little surprise in conference circles. That one surprise was furnished at Iowa City, Ia., when Illinois was held to a 7 to 0 tie by Iowa.

Michigan was expected to come out of its slump of last week-end, but Ohio State put the Wolverines on the spot before some 85,000 fans and finished with a 7 to 0 score.

Minnesota's bone-crushing power asserted itself in the battle with Northwestern at Evanston, and the Gophers came from behind in the last quarter to tear the Northwestern line to shreds and end the day with a 26 to 14 victory.

Illinois has a blank percentage in the standing column, but still has not been defeated and consequently has a chance. Michigan, with two defeats, is out of the race.

Steelers Win When Rivals Leave Field

MIDLAND, Pa., Oct. 21.—Battle between the Midland Merchants, semi-professional team, and the Woodlawn Friedman eleven came to an abrupt end at the Twelfth street park here yesterday afternoon when Woodlawn refused to accept a penalty when the ball, in their possession, was on the one yard line in the last minute of the fourth quarter.

Umpire Lawrence Anders and Referee W. A. Waschinski, both of the Steel City, declared that the upriver squad had called for more than their quota of times out during the last half. After several minutes of heated discussion, the Friedman outfit walked from the field, conceding the victory to Midland.

Why We Recommend this Unusual Hardwood Flooring—

—because so many of our customers, our friends, would like to own all hardwood floors if they could have them installed without the inconvenience and loss of the use of rooms. This has been necessary when unfinished flooring had to be scraped and papered and finished after it was laid.

CROMAR comes to us filled, varnished and waxed. Your room can be laid between morning and night and you have complete use of the room at once.

A CROMAR Hardwood floor (rub) costs less which is another reason we recommend it.

Call and see this beautiful flooring or phone if it is more convenient.

Young People's Unit Names New Officers

Miss Esther Hough, Wellsville, Vice President of Presbyterial Group; Next Meeting in Uhrichsville.

WELLSVILLE, O., Oct. 21. — Approximately 120 delegates from 40 churches in the Steubenville presbytery elected officers for the coming year at the closing session of the fourth annual conference of the presbyterial Young People's league Sunday afternoon in the Second Presbyterian church here.

The officers are: President, James Sindlinger, Brilliant; vice-president, Miss Esther Hough, Wellsville; secretary, Miss Mary Scott, Toronto; treasurer, Joseph Craig, Steubenville.

The conference selected Uhrichsville as the site of the 1930 convention.

The conference opened Saturday afternoon with a general meeting in charge of the Rev. Frederick

B. Thorne of the board of Christian education.

Banquet was served Saturday night at 6 o'clock followed by group conferences.

Playlet, "The Broken Promise," featured the morning services Sunday. The Rev. Thomas G. Berger, pastor, delivered the sermon.

Business session was held Sunday afternoon during which officers were elected. An address by the Rev. Mr. Thorne Sunday night closed the conference.

Wife Seeks Divorce.

Mrs. Laura H. Peachey has filed suit for divorce from her husband, Vincent R. Peachey, in common pleas court at Lisbon. Gross neglect is charged in the petition.

TAX PROPOSALS TO BE DEBATED

Members of the Wellsville Kiwanis club will debate the proposed state uniform tax amendment at their luncheon tomorrow at noon in the Riverview hotel.

The debate topic will be, "Resolved: That the Proposed Tax Amendment Should Be Approved by Voters."

W. R. MacDonald and Fred J. Dando will take the affirmative; Supt. S. E. Daw and James McSweeney the negative.

COURT ORDERS ALIMONY PAID

Judge W. F. Lones, in common pleas court, Lisbon, has ordered George H. Heckathorne of Wellsville to pay back alimony to his former wife, Ruth Heckathorne, or face a jail sentence for contempt.

A 30-day sentence has been suspended by the court because of the agreement of the defendant to pay the alimony now due in the divorce action disposed of Nov. 23, 1923. Heckathorne must also pay his wife $5.50 weekly for the support of his minor children, who, under the order of the court, are in the custody of the mother.

Couple to Wed Here.

Peter Citano, of Campbell, a machinist, and Miss Theresa Tronzone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patry Frontone of Wellsville have procured a marriage license, and will be married at Wellsville by the Rev. Father E. J. Gracey, pastor of the Immaculate Conception church.

Teachers who do not attend conference sessions will visit other class rooms in the district.

CARBISELLO TRIAL OPENS

Faces Court Second Time on Liquor Count.

Joseph Carbisello, Wellsville, indicted jointly with J. L. Volino, of Yellow Creek township, on a charge of manufacturing distilled liquor, went on trial this morning in common pleas court for the second time on the count.

A jury which heard Carbisello's case two weeks ago disagreed, the ballot being 10 to 2 for conviction. Unable to bring in a verdict, the jury was dismissed.

Jury which was seated at the beginning of Carbisello's second trial today consists of six men and six women.

R. M. Brooks, former prosecutor, is defending the prisoner. Prosecutor Bauknecht and Assistant Prosecutor Lafferty are in charge of the state's prosecution.

The trial is an aftermath of a raid by Sheriff W. J. Barlow and deputies on a farm near Highlandtown. The sheriff confiscated a large still and accessory equipment.

PLAN SPECIAL CHURCH MEETS

Presbyterians to Hear East Palestine Pastor.

Special meetings will be conducted next week in the Second Presbyterian church, Eighteenth street, in charge of the pastor, the Rev. Thomas G. Berger, and the Rev. Porter Williams, of East Palestine.

In preparation for the services, prayer meetings will be held each night this week in the homes of members of the congregation.

Tuesday night's meetings will be held in the homes of George Runyon, Aten avenue, and Mrs. Clayton Aughinbaugh, Commerce street. W. A. Metts will be leader at the former meeting and Mrs. T. A. Hepp at the latter.

During the present week, the Rev. Mr. Berger is conducting special meetings in the Hartwell Presbyterian church, Cincinnati.

The Rev. Mr. Williams, of East Palestine, will preach here each night next week.

Plan Rummage Sale.

Rummage sale will be held by the Mary Martha class of the Second Presbyterian church in the Moore building, Commerce and Eighteenth street, beginning tomorrow.

POLICE ARREST SEVEN HERE

Four Sent to County Jail at Lisbon Today.

Four prisoners out of a group of seven arrested by police in week-end sorties, this morning were sent to Lisbon and the remainder will probably go later, according to announcement by Mayor Wallace L. Fogo, who points out it is easy to fine but hard to collect.

Jennie Crawford, and Ruth Shaw, charged with running a disorderly house, Everett Shaw and Arthur Duke, charged with loitering, were fined $150 each by the mayor Saturday night. They were arrested in a rented room in Main street near Sixth. The quartet was taken to Lisbon this morning by Chief of Police John Fultz.

Kenneth Mann was arrested Saturday night on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated.

Police said Mann drove his car into another machine which was parked in Clark avenue.

Mann was fined $200 and is in jail.

Gay Morrell, arrested on a charge of rape with consent, is a prisoner.

Leonard Brown, Steubenville, arrested on a statutory charge, is awaiting disposition of his case by Mayor Fogo.

Sore Throat? Don't Gargle

This Doctor's Prescription Gives Quicker, Better Relief

Don't suffer the pain and discomfort of sore throat. Use a doctor's prescription called Thoxine guaranteed to relieve with the very first swallow. Gargles and salves are too slow and if they do relieve, it is usually only temporary.

Thoxine has a double action—it relieves the soreness and goes direct to the internal cause, it contains no harmful drugs and is safe and pleasant for the whole family. There is nothing better to stop coughing due to irritated throats. Just ask for Thoxine, put up ready for use in 35c, 60c, and $1.00 bottles. Money back if not relieved. All Druggists.

Rheumatic Pains And Kidney Trouble Almost Drove Him Wild

Mr. E. B. Harrison Gives "ORANGE ROOT" All the Credit for Driving Awful Rheumatic Torture From His System—Says His Weak Kidneys Have Been so Strengthened. They Do Not Bother Him Anymore—Gained 5 Pounds.

Mr. E. B. Harrison of 212 East wood ave., Akron, O., is one happy man today, for ORANGE ROOT rid him of all his rheumatic pains and health-sapping kidney trouble, after everything else had failed. Mr. Harrison is employed at the Goodyear Rubber plant and has numerous friends who will be glad to know of his wonderful victory over all his suffering. He says: "For over 12 months I have been a sufferer of the worst kind of rheumatism. Terrific pains would shoot through my shoulders, arms and limbs and almost double me up. I ached so I could not even rest or sleep at night. On top of all this misery, my kidneys gave me a lot of trouble. They caused my back to ache constantly and at night I had to get up a dozen or so times, which disturbed my rest. I felt all in and no-account. When just about to give up hope of ever being free of misery, I heard about ORANGE ROOT and immediately started taking a treatment of it and the golden Nuggets. I am one happy man today for these wonderful remedies have RESTORED ME TO HEALTH, after everything else failed to do it. Gone are all those dreadful rheumatic pains; my kidneys dole-not trouble me one bit and I can go to bed at night and sleep as sound as a tired schoolboy. I have no more backache and when I get up in the mornings I feel peppy and refreshed. I think the golden Nuggets are the best liver regulator and bowel cleaner I ever used for they keep me feeling peppy and free of dizziness and sluggishness. It would be hard to find anything on earth to equal the ORANGE ROOT remedies, for they are the only things which ever did me any good. I have gained 5 pounds already and am still going up, something unusual for me." Everybody in a weakened, rundown condition needs IRON in the blood and when you take ORANGE ROOT you get IRON and lots of it. If you are tired all the time, have no appetite, underweight and feel like Mr. Harrison did, for heaven's sake go at once to Mathew's Medicine Store, get 3 or 4 bottles of the TONIC a box of the golden NUGGETS, take them according to directions and WATCH the SPEEDY improvement in your condition. Endorsed by countless thousands from all over the land. Prices: TONIC $1.25. Nuggets 50c. H & J CREAM SOTE EMULSION COMPOUND, the wonder cough remedy, quickly relieves dangerous "Hang-On" cough, Bronchial and Asthmatic trouble. Price 65c for the large bottle at Mathew's Drug stores. It.
